Questions directing Uddhav Thackeray to take trust vote

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday questioned the Maharashtra governor's role in directing the then chief minister Uddhav Thackeray to take a trust vote following rebellion by the Eknath Shinde faction of the Shiv Sena, saying it had precipitated the situation.

Orally observing it would be a sad spectacle for democracy, Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud said, "The only thing is that a resolution of 34 MLAs which said that there was widespread discontent among the party cadres and legislators... Is this sufficient ground to call a trust vote?"

The governor, he said, cannot enter a domain that would precipitate the matter. "People will start ditching the ruling party and governors being willing allies would end up toppling the ruling party. This will be a sad spectacle for democracy."

Trust vote, he said, is to establish who is the leader of the House and not who is the leader of a party. Referring to allegations that the rebel MLAs were facing threats to their life and property, the CJI said the process is to lodge FIRs, not bring down a government.

Pointing out that there were no ideological differences between the factions for three years, the CJI said, "They broke bread for three years. They broke bread with the Congress and NCP for three years. What happened overnight after three years of happy marriage?"

The bench made the observations after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the then governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari, said there were various materials before the governor, including a letter signed by 34 Shiv Sena MLAs and a letter from Independent lawmakers withdrawing support to the Uddhav Thackeray government, which prompted him to order a trust vote.

The CJI said the governor could not assume to himself judicial power and come to the conclusion that the 34 MLAs would have to be excluded from consideration because they had incurred a disqualification under the tenth schedule.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for the Thackeray faction, said: "We're back to 'Aaya Ram, Gaya Ram'."

Bhagat Singh Koshyari

Use powers judiciously, says CJI

"The governor must be conscious of the fact that his calling for a trust vote may itself be a circumstance which may lead to toppling of a government... A governor may actually precipitate the falling of government. That is very, very serious for democracy... Governors must exercise these powers with the greatest circumspection," the CJI remarked

The only thing is that a resolution of 34 MLAs which said that there was widespread discontent among the party cadres and legislators.... Is this sufficient ground to call a trust vote?

March of 18 Oppn parties to ED office blocked

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE face-off between the Opposition and the government escalated on Wednesday after a march organised by 18 Opposition parties demanding a probe into the Adani row was called off after Delhi police blocked the roads. At least 200 MPs from several Opposition parties took part in the march, which started from Parliament House. They were stopped at Vijay Chowk, following which the members called off the march and returned to Parliament.

Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjuna Kharge, who led the march, said the government is trying to suppress the voice of the Opposition inside and outside Parliament. "They have deployed over 2,000 police personnel and we are only 200 people. We are doing a peaceful protest and not harming anyone. We are only requesting them to allow us to go to the ED office and submit our letter to ED. We want an inquiry into the Hindenburg finding and the exposure of LIC and SBI to Adani group. We want to know why the government is helping Adani," said Kharge. Though the MPs requested the police to allow them to meet the ED director in small groups, the police did not relent. "We were told that the ED director did not want to meet us," said Pramod Tiwari, Congress deputy leader in the Rajya Sabha.

Later, Kharge emailed the complaint to the ED director, in which he, along with several opposition MPs, demanded a thorough probe into the report of New York-based Hindenburg Research, which accused Adani group of stock-price manipulation and fraud.

Reminding the ED that it cannot turn around and abdicate its jurisdiction, the letter said: "Charges related to accounting fraud, the dubious nature of how the Follow-On Public Offer was manipulated behind the scenes, the shocking similarity with Adani's previous actions for which they have been investigated by your predecessors, are all available in the public domain."

TMC missing in action

The Trinamool Congress was not among the list of signatories of the letter. The Mamata Banerjee-led party did not attend the march either

Maha scheme in K'taka puts Bommai govt in fix

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Bengaluru

THE controversial decision of the Maharashtra cabinet to implement Mahatma Jyotiba Phule Jan Arogya Yojana (MJPJAY), a health scheme, in 865 villages of Karnataka on the border, over which Maharashtra has been staking its claim, has put the Bommai government in a fix.

Speaking to reporters in Belagavi on Wednesday, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that his government has been releasing funds for the welfare of people living in villages on the border. It has also been providing financial help to those visiting religious places such as Pandharpur and Tuljapur in Maharashtra. "I will look into the matter and initiate steps to prevent release of funds by Maharashtra to villages within Karnataka," he added. At its Cabinet meeting on Monday, the Maharashtra government decided to release Rs 54 crore for the implementation of MJPJAY in 865 villages and towns in Karnataka in the run up to assembly elections. The Maharashtra government has reportedly claimed it is prepared to provide funds for the welfare of Marathi-speaking and non-Marathi speaking families living in 865 villages. P4

Ticket inspector 'misbehaves' with woman, suspended

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A senior railway ticket inspector was suspended on Wednesday for allegedly misbehaving with a young woman passenger and verbally abusing her at the busy Krishnarajapuram railway station on Tuesday evening.

The incident took place around 6 pm after Howrah-SMVT Express arrived at KR Puram railway station. It is said that the accused, deputy chief ticket inspector V Santhosh, was drunk at that time. The Railways acted against him after videos of the incident went viral on social media.

Vishwanath Sinha, an IT professional, who rushed to the woman's rescue, said, "I was walking with my wife and two children when I saw the ticket inspector asking the woman passenger something. He pulled the mask she was wearing and touched her face. I sensed something wrong and rushed to her rescue. He looked drunk. Initially, nobody bothered to help her when she was arguing with him. I left my wife and kids behind and rushed to the spot. There were three cops, including a woman, some distance away. But they did not intervene."

Another passenger, Karishma Behera, who shot two videos and tweeted last night, said, "Seeing the ticket inspector abusing and misbehaving with the woman passenger, I rushed to her help. Meanwhile, a few people gathered there and took the ticket inspector to task." P3

HC seeks NHAI response on e-way toll collection

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAKING suo motu cognisance of issues raised by commuters after the commencement of toll collection on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway, the high court on Wednesday directed the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to file its response within three weeks.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order while hearing the public interest litigation filed in 2022 on issues such as lack of safety measures and signages for widening of the stretch of the national highway between Bengaluru and Kanakapura.

Referring to media reports, the court noted that issues such as commencement of toll collection without completion of work on the expressway between Bengaluru and Mysuru, improper functioning of boom barriers causing minor damages to vehicles at toll booths, and technical glitches in automatic fastag scanners have become a cause for concern. Because of glitches in fastag scanners, commuters are being forced to take the service road, thereby causing a delay.

Referring to the National Highways Fee (Determination of Rates and Collection) Rules, the court said the rules mandate various prerequisites, including issuing of public notice, before commencement of toll collection. But it appears that this has not been done before commencement of toll collection. Hence, all issues related to toll collection should be considered in public interest.

With regard to the PIL concerning widening of Bengaluru-Kanakapura stretch, the court appointed advocate Shivaprasad Shantanagoudar as its commissioner to inspect and verify the claims of petitioners and NHAI.

NHAI barricades e-way stretch for repair work

Steel plates on road joints damaged in accident to be readied in two days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

OFFICIALS of National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) have barricaded a portion of the Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway from Tuesday night after steel plates on the road joints were found damaged.

Soon after the barricades were put on the stretch, travellers and netizens took to social media to criticise the government and the NHAI for the improper maintenance. They accused the NHAI and the government for collecting toll without providing a proper road.

> To avoid accidents and damages to vehicles, we immediately barricaded the affected portion and started repair work on the stretch. The stretch will be opened for public in two days
> NHAI official

Member of Parliament Pratap Simha took to social media to inform people that the road was not damaged and the NHAI is taking up minor repair work. However, unconvinced by it, travellers demanded the government to stop toll collection until the road is ready.

Meanwhile, officials from NHAI told The New Indian Express that they found a portion of the joint steel plate protruding during daily inspection rounds on the expressway at Nedagatta, near Bidadi. "To avoid accidents and ensure that no vehicle passing on the stretch is damaged, we immediately barricaded the portion and started the repair work on the stretch. It will be open for the public in two days," said an NHAI official.

The officials said that two months ago a lorry carrying excessive load had toppled at the portion of the expressway and had damaged it. "It is not true that the stretch has been opened for people only from Sunday (March 12), after it was inaugurated by the prime minister. Citizens have been using the stretch even before that and lakhs of vehicles ply on the road every day. Due to wear and tear, the steel plate has been damaged further and required immediate repair work," the official added.

No power cuts in state, thanks to exams

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

OFFICIALS of the energy department announced on Wednesday that there will be no power cuts in the state for the next three months. The announcement was made on Wednesday, even as the decision was taken on Monday at a high-level meeting.

Managing Director of Bangalore Electricity Supply Corporation Limited Mahantesh Bilagi said that keeping in mind the interest of students and farmers, the five electricity supply companies (ESCOMs-BESCOM, MESCOM, HESCOM, GESCOM and CESC Mysore) will ensure that there is no load-shedding or power cut for the next three months.

Bilagi, who is also the power trading committee chairman for all the Escoms, said power demand is high during summer because of SSLC and PUC exams and farmers have also requested the government to supply uninterrupted power during the season. "A decision has been taken to ensure uninterrupted power supply for the next three months," he said.

> Power demand in state is high because of SSLC and PUC exams. Farmers have also requested the government to supply uninterrupted power during summer
> Mahantesh Bilagi, BESCOM MD

In a bid to meet the high electricity demand in summer, the energy department has instructed KPTCL and all Escoms to take necessary actions to meet the rising electricity demand.

The Escoms have undertaken a scientific study on the power requirements for the next three months. According to the study, the energy department must ensure the availability, generation, and distribution of power without any hindrances, Bilagi said. At the meeting, it was also decided that all Escoms must equip themselves to meet the demand with sufficient financial strength to purchase power and be prepared for any contingency that maybe required at the state-level.

The BESCOM has estimated the peak demand in March to be around 7,600 megawatts per day and the power consumption in the month is likely to touch 132 million units. An average of 7,400 megawatts per day was recorded for 12 days this month. In April, an average of 7,650 megawatts of power is estimated and consumption of power will likely reach 135 million units in the month.

KPTCL employees union call off protest

A day after the members of the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL) had announced to go on strike, the union members called off the protests on Wednesday. The union members met Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who assured to meet the demand to increase their salary by 20 per cent. He also requested the members to discontinue the protest. "We had held a prolonged meeting with Energy Department Minister V Sunil Kumar on late Tuesday night, where it was decided to increase the salary by 20 per cent. On Wednesday, the CM and the two departments agreed to our demands. Hence, we have decided to end the strike," said the union members.

Talks fail, transport unions to go on strike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE second round of discussion held with different unions of the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation to discuss wage hike for transport employees on Wednesday failed. With this, the chief minister will have to intervene in the matter as the earlier meeting with Minister B Sriramulu had also failed, and the unions have set a deadline of March 21 to fulfil the demand.

In the meeting convened by KSRTC MD Anbu Kumar, MDs of three other corporations and representatives of six unions, including the AITUC-affiliated KSRTC Staff and Workers' Federation, had taken part. However, the officials and union leaders could not arrive at a consensus.

Transport activist and president of KSRTC Staff & Workers Federation, H V Anantha Subbarao, said while the transport minister had offered a pay hike of 8-10 per cent in the March 8 meeting, the KSRTC MD offered a 10-14 per cent hike. "Though our initial demand was a minimum hike of 25 per cent, we have reduced it to 20 per cent. But the MD said the corporations are running under losses and the government is still in the stage of financial recovery due to the pandemic," he said.

The union leaders, however, cited that the government has given an interim relief of a 17 per cent hike to government employees and 20 per cent for KPTCL workers. "The MD has assured us that he would appraise the CM about our demand soon. We are also planning to take a delegation to the CM in a couple of days," Subbarao added.

As the transport unions are planning to go on an indefinite strike from March 21, a day before Ugadi, lakhs of people travelling to their hometowns from Bengaluru and other districts will be inconvenienced if the matter is not resolved.

BDA site owners not allowed to build houses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE massive hurdles faced by the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) site allottees to construct house on plots allotted to them two decades ago in Banashankari VI stage came to the fore during a public grievances meet on Wednesday. The owners said the Forest Department was not permitting them to go ahead with the construction as the Turahalli forest is in its vicinity.

A total of 2006 sites, allotted in 2003-04, have run into trouble with the Forest Department. Giving details, a senior BDA official said the sites were handed over two decades ago. "In 2009, the Forest Department said that a good chuck of the land fell within its limits and it has taken its possession. They fenced the land with a wall too. So, 849 sites were lost in this," the official said. This includes sites in 3rd, 5th, 4B block and 4 H blocks.

Meanwhile, a few among the remaining allottees had attempted to build houses on their land. However, two years ago, the Forest Department said that many sites fell within 100 metres of its border, which the department calls a buffer zone, and stopped the construction. "A total of 1,157 sites including two civic amenity sites are impacted. The allottees are not being allowed to build houses by the Forest Department whenever they attempt to do so," he added.

Asked about it, BDA Commissioner Kumar G Naik said the BDA has sent a proposal to the government to ensure the Forest Department fixes the buffer at 30 metres.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

16TH March : Scorpio is my sign of the day, so it's time to remember that this was once the most important sign in the zodiac. That was sixteen thousand years ago when the Sun rose in this sign on March 21st, when the days and nights were of equal length. If you're a Scorpion you can be proud of your heritage. And if you live with one, pay them some respect!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Do spare a little time to check out the physical side of things. Your general well-being will be enhanced with just a little attention to diet and exercise. When it comes to relationships you should listen to older or more experienced people, for they might have interesting insights into your own situation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The fact that the Moon is moving very rapidly through the zodiac is a very helpful sign. Relations with children should benefit, which means that those of you who have been experiencing family difficulties may now take the necessary initiatives.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
A word for everyone involved in major domestic expenditure, including property deals, is that everything looks basically auspicious. Even possible differences of opinion won't break the basic helpful pattern. In fact, they'll probably help clear the air, giving you a much better perspective on old problems.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Deadlines are looming! This is by no means the final decision time, but you should at least make a number of outstanding choices about what you're going to do and, more importantly, who you do it with. The question "why" can perhaps be put off until another time!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A certain business like alignment in your solar chart is set to continue, at least for another few days. One reading says that you should now go all out to get one month's work completed in one day. Another says that you should concentrate on doing the best you can, rather than getting chores finished as quickly as possible.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Moon makes a profound emotional impact on your life for the second day running, extending a generally capable and confident period, but also bringing an increasing risk of complacency with every hour that passes! The last thing you want to do is overlook the obvious!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Probably the greatest risks lying in wait for you today involve plots, conspiracies and gossip. Remember that such things are indiscriminate in the damage they cause, and you should squash all rumours as soon as they arise. It's much better to stick to the truth.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Teamwork is now essential, which, of course, could mean spending all day sitting in meetings! At home, you should do your best to delegate chores to any passing friend or relative, spreading the burden as widely as you can. It's about time they did their fair share!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There is so much going on in the planetary spheres, not in your sign, but in your neighbouring signs, that life must be increasingly complex. Your daily possibilities will be multiplying, so don't expect everything to be clear - at least, not just yet.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You're now entering a new financial phase which will probably last for about four weeks. This is not likely to be easy, but then neither will it be difficult. Even small developments, though, could be significant, and hence worthy of your maximum attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
One rather important question concerns the value you put on close relationships, and the emotional demands you therefore feel able to make on other people. Financial goals should be kept in perspective, for you should judge people by their human qualities, not by their wealth.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are a number of issues to consider now. One is that while other people are prepared to be generous, they will expect something in return, perhaps more than you are prepared to give. You may have to be telepathic if you are to work out exactly what partners want!

The crime was reported in Wilson Garden Police station limits on Tuesday. The accused tried to end his life at his residence in KP Agrahara police limits.

The accused, who has been identified as Manoj, and the victim were Facebook friends and later fell in love. The victim's parents fixed her marriage with another man. After coming to know about this, the accused went to her residence in the absence of her family and fought with her. He then allegedly raped and smothered her to death with a pillow. 'Ticket inspector a habitual offender'

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE videos exposing the behaviour of Deputy Chief Ticket Inspector (DCTI) at Krishnarajapuram, V Santhosh, have been welcomed by countless passengers who have been allegedly harassed by him in the past. One such passenger plans to file a criminal case against him.

Sunil, an IT professional, who claims he was harassed by Santhosh earlier, told TNIE that he had been receiving calls and messages from friends after the videos went viral on how Santhosh had behaved with them in the past. "Targeting those who do not look like they belong to Karnataka or single women and intimidating them is a common thread running through them. I now intend to pursue much stricter action against this individual and, maybe, file a criminal case against him," he said.

Sunil vividly recalls the afternoon of December 31, 2019, when he and his wife, a doctor, were returning from Visakhapatnam by the Humsafar Express. "He asked us to produce our tickets. Just as my wife was opening our phone to show it to him, he was hurrying us up. He then began abusing me with such unparliamentary words that I cannot even share with you. When I protested, he said he would call the Railway Protection Force and book us for carrying excess baggage. We were shocked by this brazen attitude," he said. There were RPF cops at the station who noticed his behaviour but chose to remain silent, Sunil alleged.

Sunil adds that after showing their tickets, his wife who knew Kannada, said he could not treat them in this fashion. "She told the ticket checker that if their baggage was shown to weigh less, then he should apologise for his behaviour. He let us off after that. I am willing to testify in front of any court on this incident," he added. The IT professional added that his friends, a North Indian couple, too experienced such harassment at his hands.

"More people have reached out to me now. In the interests of the safety of women passengers mainly, I want to go ahead with the criminal case," he stressed.

Covid, swine flu cases up along with H3N2, docs blame weather

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WHILE the H3N2 virus is already dominant in Karnataka, Covid and H1N1 (swine flu) cases are also seeing a slow rise in the state. Lately, the active Covid cases have crossed the 500-mark in the state.

Dr MK Sudarshan, Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) chairman, said the a high number of H3N2 cases have been observed in the past few weeks. He added that the number of H1N1 cases have also seen a rise. According to data collected by the Union Health Ministry, the neighbouring states of Tamil Nadu and Kerala are also seeing a high prevalence of the virus. Sudharshan said that with a simultaneous rise in Covid cases, the number of ICU admissions is a matter of concern.

As of March 15, with 119 new Covid cases reported, the total active cases in the state are 560. The weekly test positivity rate (TPR) stood at 2.76%, with one death reported on Tuesday. The deceased is a 71-year-old man from Bengaluru, with symptoms like fever, cough, and breathlessness. He also had other comorbidities like hypertension, diabetes and chronic kidney disease.

Health officials added that most patients being admitted in the ICU have other comorbidities. The department is, however, being watchful and has assured that the rising cases are not a reason of worry.

Since symptoms for Influenza Like Illness (ILI) and Covid cases are almost similar, the state Health and Family Welfare Department has directed hospitals to investigate all patients showing symptoms for either viruses and study the existence of co-infections.

According to data released by the Union Health Ministry on March 13, Karnataka has seen 4,700 H1N1 cases from 2018 till March 2023, and 201 have been declared dead till now. Doctors said a change in the weather has been the primary cause for the rise in ILI/SARI cases.

Woman passenger did not file complaint: Railway cops

IN one of the videos, the woman is heard asking the ticket inspector in Hindi and English, "Why are you pulling me? I have the ticket." The inspector is also heard abusing her in Hindi.

However, the railway police said that the woman passenger did not file a complaint. Bengaluru Divisional Railway Manager Shyam Singh, said, "We have suspended the ticket inspector with immediate effect. The order was issued on Wednesday. We have guidelines to be followed in such cases and we will act against him," he told The New Indian Express.

SIDDU URGES CENTRE TO SACK SHINDE GOVT IN MAHARASHTRA

Wants Bommai to resign for not reacting to Maha health scheme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

CONGRESS Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Wednesday opposed the decision of the Maharashtra government to implement Mahatma Jyotiba Phule Jan Arogya Yojana (MJPJAY) health guarantee scheme in 865 border villages of Karnataka.

The former chief minister demanded that the Union Government sack the Eknath Shinde-led Maharashtra government and sought the resignation of Karnataka CM Basavaraj Bommai for "not reacting to the issue."

"While a government of one state is interfering with the affairs of another state, how can the Centre sit quietly?" Siddaramaiah told reporters.

He criticised the BJP government in Karnataka for not registering its protest. "Are the State and Central governments dead?" a visibly furious Siddaramaiah asked.

"Residents of several villages in Maharashtra are unhappy with their government and want to join Karnataka. How can Maharashtra then interfere with our affairs to resolve their problems? Have these developments not come to the notice of the Union Government?" he thundered.

The Badami MLA said that the Maharashtra government's move is against the federal structure of the country.

Siddaramaiah further criticised the Maharashtra leaders for unnecessarily playing with the sentiments of Kannadigas and trying to disturb the peace in Karnataka.

SOURCES said the Karnataka government too is constructing Kannada-medium schools in villages dominated by Kannada-speaking people in Maharashtra. It has also distributed books and smart TVs to Kannada-medium schools.

'Contempt of court'

Various Kannada organisations have condemned Maharashtra government's decision to implement its health scheme in Karnataka and said at a time when a case pertaining to the boundary dispute between both the states is pending before the Supreme Court, the decision of Maharashtra is a clear case of "contempt of court".

In a letter to the CM, Chairman of Kannada Organisations Action Committee Ashok Chandargi said the decision of Maharashtra violated the "compromise formula" worked out at a meeting of both chief ministers in the presence of Union Home Minister Amit Shah on December 14 last.

Bommai should go: DKS

KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Wednesday termed the release of funds by Maharashtra for implementation of its health scheme an insult to Karnataka. Reacting to this in Bengaluru, he said, "We will not let even an inch of Karnataka's land go to Maharashtra. We are capable of protecting our land, water and language even at the cost of our lives. We will not allow the implementation of Maharashtra 's health scheme in Karnataka." Shivakumar sought to know if the state government lacks funds for the welfare of its people living in border villages. He even sought to know who has granted permission to Maharashtra to implement its scheme in Karnataka. "Has our government gone bankrupt?" he said. The KPCC president hit out at the CM stating that he did not have the moral right to continue in power. The CM, who has failed to protect the interests of Kannadigas, must step down, he said.

IN a significant move, Karnataka State Backward Classes Commission has submitted a special report to the government urging it to provide Category I reservation benefits to orphans unaware of their caste status.

Revealing this to the media here on Wednesday, Chairman of the commission K Jayaprakash Hegde said the state may adopt the Telangana and Maharashtra models to accord reservation under Category I for orphans. It commission has recommended to the government to provide them reservation in education and employment. The commission had visited orphanages in various districts and gathered information in this regard.

On the castes, which have not been included in the Backward Classes list but come under creamy layer category, will be issued caste certificates for the purpose of reservation other than in education and employment as Minister for Social Welfare and Backward Classes Srinivasa Pujary heard their problems at a meeting held recently, Hegde said.

There are 46 small communities in the state. Among them, those with a population of less than 300 have been identified. These communities have not been receiving any government benefits because of lack of information on which categories they belong. The report has recommended reservation to such communities.

Reports related to communities such as Kadugolla, Hattigolla (Adavigolla), Khanjir Bhat, Kanjar, Khanjar Bhat, Chapparband, Kudubi, Mukhari/Muwari, Nainda, Pommala, Chennadasara, Izhunchichichiti, Maruthuvar, Nair, Pidchimchitchii, Pariyala, Ramkshatriya, Madiokkaliga, Jogar, and Chaurasia have been submitted to the government, he said.

Besides, reports related to Lingayat Kudu Vokkaliga, Adibanajiga, Nolamba, Mallava Malegowda, Lingayat Ruddy, Gowda Lingayat, Shivsimpi, Bangara, Shivachara Nagarta, 24 Mane Telugushetty, Arera, Kannada Vaishya, and sub-castes of Ganiga community and Veerashaiva/Lingayat community have been prepared. Report on Panchamasali-Lingayats can't be submitted in a hurry: Hegde

@ Bengaluru

CHAIRMAN of Backward Classes Commission K Jayaprakash Hegde here on Wednesday clarified that it is not possible to submit the report on the demand for reservation under 2A category made by Panchamasali-Lingayats in a hurry without studying their social and academic status.

"An interim report has already been submitted to the government... the full report is yet to be submitted. According to the norms, the commission has to visit different places and study the social and educational background of different communities, collect information and submit it after a thorough verification," he told the media.

Apart from the petitions by various associations of Veerashaiva Panchamasali communities, the commission responded to the petitions of other backward communities and visited many districts in the state to study their social and educational status. It also collected information from various government agencies and also universities and the process of preparing the report is in progress. "Similarly, the process of verifying the petition by the state's central association of Vokkaliga community requesting to increase the existing reservation is also in progress," he said.

On implementation of his predecessor H Kantharaju's socio-economic survey (caste census) report, Hegde clarified that the then member secretary had not signed the report and hence the government did not accept it. "Now, the commission has written a letter and asked whether a new report should be prepared and it all depends on the government's decision," he added.

Cong Veerashaiva-Lingayat leaders seek more tickets in Bengaluru

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

THE Veershaiva-Lingayat community leaders in Congress are taking advantage of an apparent rift within the BJP to seek more tickets to contest the coming assembly polls from Bengaluru.

It all started with Housing Minister V Somanna and revenue minister R Ashoka, both faces of the community in BJP party in Bengaluru, locking horns, leading to the party's Vijay Sankalp Yatra being abruptly stopped at Nagarbhavi recently, bringing to the fore the differences between the two.

Congress party leaders from the Veerashaiva-Lingayat community in Bengaluru met on Tuesday evening and decided to seek more tickets to contest from the constituencies in the state capital, feeling this was the right time to strike.

The president of Veerashaiva Mahasabha Bengaluru Urban district S Guruswamy on Wednesday wrote to the AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge seeking more seats for the members of the community.

He has targeted those constituencies where the community has its presence, including Rajajinagar, which has more than 40,000 voters from the community. He has particularly backed former deputy mayor of Bengaluru BS Puttaraju as the latter is on good terms with the party's top brass including senior Congress leader Siddararamaiah, who belongs to the Kuruba community, which too has a sizeable presence in the constituency.

In Bengaluru City, Rural and Ramanagara, despite having sizable votes the community was ignored in 2018 Assembly polls besides in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, he pointed out.

Mahadevappa not to fight from Nanjangud, to support Darshan Dhruvanarayan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

IN a major political development ahead of the Assembly elections in the state, former minister HC Mahadevappa has decided not to contest the April/May Assembly elections from Nanjangud segment and has extended his support to Darshan, son of the late Congress leader R Dhruvanarayan.

Dhruvanarayan, a former MP and Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) working president, suffered a massive heart attack and passed away last week.

Mahadevappa, along with his son Sunil Bose, called on the grieving family of Dhruvanarayan on Wednesday. Mahadevappa spent some time with the family and assured them that he will stand by Darshan to help him fulfil his father's wish. "You are also like my son Sunil. I will extend all support to your family and will help you nurture in politics," he told Darshan.

"I will extend support (to Darshan) and will ensure that he wins by a huge margin. I wanted to convey my decision to Dhruvanarayan's family on the day of his death only... but I waited for three days for the family to recover from the shock. I don't want to do politics in death. We have lost a committed party leader and it is a great loss to the party and society," Mahadevappa said. He appealed to all his followers to support Darshan.

Meanwhile, Darshan thanked Mahadevappa for his gesture.

'Cooperativism' alternative to capitalism, communism: Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has hailed the way the cooperative sector is progressing in Karnataka and said "cooperativism" is an answer to capitalism and communism.

"Cooperativism is a strong force which is an alternative to capitalism and communism. It involves people and works for them without giving way for any one leader to control the system. There is a vital need for cooperative movement to grow stronger in the country," he said at the inauguration of the Mahantesh Kavatagimath Souhard Sahakari Sangh Niyamit, a cooperative society launched by Sharatchandra, son of former MLC Mahantesh Kavatagimath in Belagavi.

"The cooperative sector has grown tremendously in some parts of the state, especially Belagavi. The district has been in the forefront in cooperative movement for several years now. We have a cooperative culture in all the fields in Belagavi and that is why the cooperative sector has been under huge profits in Belagavi," he said.

The CM, however, said Gujarat and Maharashtra have scaled new heights in the cooperative sector. The sector may have achieved tremendous progress in some parts of Karnataka but the state is yet to develop on par with Gujarat and Maharashtra, he said, adding that the cooperative sector was so strong and powerful in both these states that the cooperatives rule the government there. "Here in Karnataka, the government rules the cooperatives. There is a need for the people involved in the cooperative sector to build and expand their business, giving more focus on moral values rather than all other factors," he said.

He said the working of several federations had been not at all satisfactory as only one person dominates and controls the federation, depriving all others of the opportunity to grow.

The division bench of Justice G Narendar and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the interim order after staying the order passed by the single judge to quash the circular of December 2022 issued by the Department of School Education and Literacy for Board Assessment for Class 5 and 8 students.

Recording the affidavit filed by the Commissioner of Department of School Education and Literacy, stating that questions would be from the prescribed textbooks and syllabus, the court directed the state to ensure that no questions are framed from the subject outside the prescribed syllabus.

Noting that the results shall be communicated confidentially to the schools and not to be publicised, the court asked the state government to publicise about nature of exams, which does not in any manner impact the advancement of a child's progression to the next class. This interim order is subject to further orders to be passed on the appeal filed by the state government against the order of single judge, the court added.

The counsel of the petitioner - Registered Unaided Private Schools Management Association Karnataka - argued that the students have not studied several portions that have been mentioned in the 'Kalika Chetarike' booklet. The petitioner private schools have not taught several portions mentioned in this book. However, the state government is conducting exams framing different questions not forming part of textbooks, the counsel argued.

The state government contended that nothing is out of syllabus. Even model question papers were prepared from within the prescribed syllabus and textbooks and web-hosted, seeking suggestions long ago. The petitioners have not responded to them. It also reiterated that questions would be within the prescribed textbooks and syllabus. Accordingly, an affidavit was filed before the court to that effect.

On March 11, the court directed the state government to keep in abeyance the conduct of examinations scheduled on March 13 and 14 for Class 5 and 8 students. Thereafter, the state government postponed the exams.

Bomman and Bellie after meeting Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin, in Chennai on Wednesday. The tribal couple have devoted their life to caring for orphaned baby elephants, and were the inspiration behind the Oscar 2023-winning documentary short film 'The Elephant Whisperers' | R SATISH BABU

Stalin announces ₹1L aid for mahouts, cavadis in TN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

BOMMAN and Belli, caretakers of young elephant calf Raghu featured in the Oscar-winning documentary film The Elephant Whisperers that was filmed at the Mudumalai Elephant Camp, were facilitated by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin on Wednesday. Stalin also announced a grant of ₹1 lakh each to all 91 mahouts and cavadis from the Chief Minister's Public Relief Fund. Besides, the chief minister also announced financial assistance of ₹9.1 crore for constructing eco-friendly and culturally compatible houses for all 91 elephant caretakers.

The documentary has given a global stage to the Tamil Nadu forest department's activities on elephant care management. There are 91 elephant caretakers working at its two elephant camps at Theppakkad in Mudumalai and at Kozhikamuthi elephant camp in Anamalai.

After meeting Stalin, the tribal couple interacted with the media. "Being part of an Oscar-winning film is a proud moment for all of us. We just did our job. The forest department gave us the calf and we fostered him like our child. Everyone is appreciating us, but frankly we never expected any of this attention," Bomman said.

When Raghu was handed over to the couple, he was weak and injured carrying dog bite marks. It took several months of personal care and hand-feeding to improve his health. "Raising an elephant calf is not easy," he replied to a query.

Belli had earlier expressed some disappointment about the forest department not allowing her to meet the elephant, which she fostered as her own child. "We did our job and when the elephant grew to a certain size, we had to give it to another mahout. Now, we cannot go often and meddle with their work and training," Bomman and Belli said.

CPM state secretary M V Govindan has sent a legal notice to gold smuggling case accused Swapna Suresh in connection with her remarks made through Facebook Live on February 9.

In the notice sent through his lawyer Nicholas Joseph, Govindan has asked Swapna to tender an unconditional apology for her remarks and to pay a sum of Rs 1 crore as compensation for the defamatory remarks made against him. On February 9, Swapna had levelled serious allegations against Govindan. Through FB live, she also stated that Pillai had said that he was mediating, following the instructions of the CPM state secretary. She also said that Pillai, on behalf of Govindan, had offered Rs 30 crore to keep quiet. She said Pillai had said if she does not desist from raising allegations against the CM, she would have to face dire consequences.

Govindan had refuted the allegations and said that he has no idea about who Vijay Pillai is. In the legal notice, Govindan has asked Swapna to pay Rs 1 crore as damages and publish an unqualified apology in newspapers.

Panel to study what led to Kochi fire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

NEARLY 13 days after a fire broke out at the Brahmapuram waste treatment plant, Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan on Wednesday announced the setting up of a committee of experts to conduct a detailed probe into the reasons of the blaze and to suggest measures to avoid such incidents.

In a statement made under Rule 300 in the assembly, the chief minister said the criminal case registered in connection with the fire that broke out on March 2 will be probed by a special investigation team. The vigilance and anti-corruption bureau will also conduct a probe into the activities of the plant.

The CM said the fire was put out completely on March 13. No serious health problems have been reported among the people following the fire and the toxic fumes that surrounded the area. He said 1,335 people had sought treatment in hospitals of which 128 were below 10 years of age and 262 were above 60 years. Around 21 people had to be admitted as in-patients after they developed uneasiness following the fire and smoke. Pinarayi said a comprehensive health survey is being conducted at Brahmapuram and adjoining areas. A team of experts will study if any factors that could create long-term health issues are present in soil, water or the bodies of residents in the locality. An empowered committee has been tasked under disaster management act to ensure fool-proof waste treatment and timely implementation of a state-wide action plan towards the purpose.

"The additional chief secretary of the LSG department will monitor the activities in Kochi on a daily basis. In addition to this, the ministers of LSG and Industries will convene weekly assessment meetings," the chief minister informed the assembly. On the state-wide comprehensive action plan for waste management, the CM said it will be implemented with people's participation.

Scientific treatment of solid waste, building waste, bio-medical and e-waste will be carried out. Rules relating to waste management will be strictly implemented and action taken against offenders. Pinarayi said organised protests motivated by narrow interests against waste treatment plants will not be tolerated.

DRIVING SENSE INTO MOTORISTS TO REDUCE HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Transport authorities are attempting to bring in lane discipline in a country where highways are scarred by accidents, with a pilot project on the Pune-Bengaluru National Highway 48 in Karnataka. The project will utilise technology and CCTVs to track down violators and stop their journey at the following toll plaza. For starters, CCTVs will cover the most dangerous sections of the highway from Tumakuru to Belagavi. The butter-smooth NH-48, most parts of which have been upgraded to world-class levels, is meant for high-speed travel, but this is often jeopardised by drivers jumping lanes and swinging between heavy vehicles.

Lane discipline is certainly not a strong point among Indian drivers. In a bid to enforce safety and road etiquette, the authorities are laying down strict rules: Slow-moving heavy vehicles are to stay in the left lane, fast vehicles in the far right, while those travelling at moderate speed are to take the middle lane, and drivers who wish to switch lanes should use indicators. With 70% of road accidents caused by overspeeding and 90% due to human error, the new rules are a good initiative to streamline highway traffic.

The project is much needed in Karnataka, which has a total National Highways length of 13,565 km, and 408 black spots (accident-prone locations). The Hubballi-Dharwad bypass road, billed as the deadliest stretch in the country, is the only two-lane section of the 2,807-km long NH-48, running from Delhi to Tamil Nadu. In 2020, Karnataka saw 3,330 deaths on its national highways and 2,899 fatalities on state highways. The causes are many: motorists violate speed limits, generally 80 km/hour, and randomly change lanes. Poorly designed service and approach roads are another matter of concern.

While relying on technology, the initiative places the onus on the violator to pay up at the toll gate. This could lead to quarrels with toll plaza staff and pile-ups at the gates. Unless the project is implemented efficiently, it could go the way of FASTag, with cash still being accepted. Such an initiative also calls for steep fines, as a mere ₹500 for lane jumping will fail to act as a deterrent. The transport ministry could take a leaf from how Singapore or Dubai levy penalties, which leave the driver poorer by ₹10,000 to ₹50,000. Only when the penalty pinches the pocket will drivers be more conscious of rules.

CONG SHOULDN'T GO ON SELF-DESTRUCTION MODE

The Congress party in Kerala has yet to learn lessons from its devastating defeat in the last Assembly elections, where it lost for the second consecutive time. Instead of taking the ruling LDF head-on—which is offering them one issue after another on a platter to corner them—the Congress leaders are busy fighting among themselves. Things have worsened to the point where seven out of the 16 Congress MPs from the state had recently approached the Congress high command against the KPCC president K Sudhakaran. Though the central leadership has told the senior leaders not to air any public statements, there has been no end to the public bickering. The rebelling MPs insist they are left with no options but to air their views openly as no meetings are being held in the party.

There is some truth in what the MPs allege, as the reorganisation of the KPCC has been pending for more than a year, and the party organisation is as good as dead. The leadership also has avoided convening office-bearers' meetings fearing schisms. The other constituents in the UDF point out that the Congress party, which leads the front, needs to take up issues against the government in a consistent manner. Amid this, Thiruvananthapuram MP Shashi Tharoor has also been posing quite a challenge to the Congress after contesting for the post of Congress president. While the younger lot in the state Congress have openly come out supporting Tharoor, the seniors in the party, including Opposition leader V D Satheesan, former KPCC president Ramesh Chennithala and AICC general secretary K C Venugopal, are determined to see to it that Tharoor comes nowhere near the top slots. This has further added to the prevailing confusion in the party.

Interestingly, all these happen when the LDF government provides the opposition with more than enough reasons to put them in a spot. The Congress should realise that performance in the Assembly is not enough to convince the common person to vote for it, and this is something even the other constituents in the UDF have been reminding the Congress openly. A political party should have an organisational structure in place and at least some semblance of unity to win the people's trust. And that is something the state unit of the Congress party should not forget if it is to survive.

QUICK TAKE

REARING KIDS OF TRANS-COUPLES

The SC hearing on same-sex marriages, now referred to a constitutional bench, touched upon theoretical problems children of such couples might face. But why be hypothetical when possibly the first child from a trans-couple was already born in Kerala last month? Thanks to donor insemination and surrogacy, more children will be born, whether the marriages are recognised or not. What's critical is helping the parents rear them in an environment of heterosexist and homophobic attitudes and when neither law nor society sanctions their families. Robust support systems are needed to monitor the kids' behaviour and psychology as they grow up.

Nature has used the anvil of evolution to craft our bodies to perform best in a physiologically optimal middle zone

EXTREMES SPELL DANGER FOR BODY, MODERATION IS KEY

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist and Distinguished Professor of Public Health, PHFI

A recent study on the health risks posed by "very high" levels of high-density lipoprotein cholesterol (HDL-C) has caused consternation in the world of medicine. It looked at associations between health outcomes and HDL-C by using two large databases of blood samples stored in UK and US biobanks and disease-related data which were recorded in those cohorts. Total mortality and cardiovascular death rates were compared in persons with HDL-C levels up to 80 mg% and those with higher levels.

HDL-C is regarded as the protective fraction of cholesterol, essentially, "good cholesterol". It prevents deposition of cholesterol in tissues, especially in blood vessel walls. In most cohort studies around the world, low levels of HDL-C have been shown to be associated with an increased risk of heart attacks and strokes. High rates of heart attacks in persons of Indian ethnicity across different countries have especially been linked to low HDL-C levels. However, the UK-US Biobank study published in 2022 surprised many doctors by revealing that persons with HDL levels over 80mg% were two times more prone to all-cause mortality and a 71% higher risk of cardiovascular mortality, compared to those with lower levels. There was a U-shaped relationship: persons having very low levels of HDL-C also had higher cardiovascular death rates. Both extremes were clearly bad.

This should not come as a complete surprise. Some earlier studies with smaller sample sizes had also suggested an increased risk of death in persons with very high levels of HDL-C. Further, drug trials with agents that increase HDL-C levels in blood were uniformly unsuccessful in providing the hoped for protection against major cardiovascular events. While a fall in HDL-C due to smoking, physical inactivity or diabetes was bad for the heart, boosting it through medicines did not help. An increased risk of osteoporosis (where bones become weak and brittle) and bone fractures has also been reported in persons with HDL-C levels above 74mg%.

A similar warning about simplistic predictions of risk came from a 2023 study from South Korea, which studied low-density lipoprotein cholesterol (LDL-C) levels in persons with diabetes. LDL-C is the globally incriminated villain ("bad cholesterol") that causes atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease. Drugs that lower LDL-C, such as statins, have been shown to be very effective in prevention of events related to coronary heart disease. Yet, the Korean study, which identified 26,341 cases of sudden cardiac arrest (SCA), found there was an increase in the risk of SCA when LDL-C levels were below 70mg%. That level of risk was only second to the risk observed in persons whose LDL-C was above 160 mg%.

In the Japanese Nomura community-based cohort study (2021) involving 3,684 participants, all-cause mortality was noted to be 2.5 times higher in persons with LDL-C below 70 mg% compared to those with levels over 144 mg%. There are likely to be ethnic variations between populations. Nevertheless, these studies challenge the conventional wisdom of cardiology which affirmed that "lower the LDL-C, the better it is for heart health". These findings should really not surprise us. We know through various cohort studies that many physiological variables have a U-shaped or a J-shaped relationship with health risks. Both beyond and below a relatively safe range, the risk of adverse health events progressively increases. This is true for body temperature, body weight, blood pressure, blood sugar and blood lipid levels. We are in trouble if haemoglobin levels, platelet counts or white blood cell counts are too low or too high. Even for a protective feature like immunity, very low or very high levels of antibodies can be harmful!

The human body has evolved to function best within those safe bands. There will be some variations in the span of those bands, between populations and among individuals. Risk of adverse health events, especially those involving cardiovascular disease, is determined by a composite of risk factors rather than by the level of a single risk factor. For heart attacks and strokes, the "absolute risk" of a major cardiovascular adverse event (death, non-fatal heart attack or stroke) is predicated on an individual's family history, sex, age, smoking habits, blood pressure, body mass index, waist-hip ratio, blood sugar, blood lipid profile, stress levels and sleep patterns, among others. Dietary patterns and exercise levels influence many of the biologic risk factors which combine to produce insulin resistance, inflammation, vascular injury, atherosclerosis and thrombosis.

Amid this complexity, doctors still try to assess risk by looking at levels of major risk factors. While doing so, it would be wise to recognise that nature abhors both extremes and has used the anvil of evolution to craft our bodies to perform best in a physiologically optimal middle zone. Healthy diets and moderate physical exercise keep most physiological variables in that safe zone.

For extraneous factors that do not occur naturally and are introduced into human bodies which are not physiologically programmed for them, their relationship with health risks is likely to be linear rather than U-shaped. Toxic chemicals in polluted air or tobacco smoke and additives in ultra-processed foods or micro-plastics do not have a U-shaped relationship with human health. They pose rising levels of danger with an increase in doses or duration of exposure. Not only is human physiology unfamiliar with such artificially introduced chemicals, but the trillions of friendly bacteria that constitute our body's supportive mechanism (microbiome) are also challenged when we consume them.

What the body needs for its physiological functions it accepts willingly in moderation. When we unwisely dump into it things it does not need or use, it suffers damage in a linear dose-response relationship. Even when dealing with familiar physiologic variables, it does not tolerate a harmful combination of multiple risk factors even if they are only modestly elevated, since the cumulative risk is high. For example, risks of blood pressure are compounded by smoking, raised blood cholesterol or diabetes. The evolved wisdom of our bodies value moderation and our physiological sensors shun extremes. It is time to become aware and realise that moderation is the word!

SUSTAINABLE TALENT MANAGEMENT IS A LONG GAME

R GOPALAKRISHNAN

Author and business commentator. His fifty-year professional career was in HUL and Tata

BUILDING BUSINESSES

We celebrate the success of Indian CEOs who have made it big in international companies. Apart from business managers, kudos and encomiums are also due to academics, doctors and scientists, who have deservedly begun to achieve international recognition. While the leaders have great merit, we cannot overlook the meritocracy in those countries that encourages great talent to flower.

So far as management is concerned, I have a deep interest partly because of my professional background and partly because of my passionate belief that talent and management excellence are the most important ingredients to synthesise SHE—sustainable, honest, and enlightened—enterprises. SHE companies are crucial for the advancement of our nation. Every nation has developed by building great enterprises. The track record of talent management among many companies, both established and startup, suggests that India can do better. Just six generations ago, there was no concept of an Indian manager. This column explores a brief history of the factors that led to the establishment and growth of Indian management talent.

Circa 1800, India was among the richest nations in the world in terms of GDP, which is why the Dutch, the English and the French were all eager to trade with India. Recall what led to colonisation. Textiles, spices, ivory and agricultural commodities were all hugely valuable trading items. The industrial revolution in England led to employment generation in mining, manufacturing, railways, postal system, etc. Apart from workers, the tribe of managers started to develop. In their interests, the British colonialists introduced infrastructural activities in their most prized colony. In the initial decades, experienced British workers and technicians worked as supervisors or managers in India. The activity reserved for the natives in India, West Indies, Guyana, Fiji or African colonies was unskilled labour.

Historians credit Dadabhai Naoroji for mooting and advocating that 'natives' had to be trained and deployed on the administrative challenges of a complex country like India. As a British parliamentarian, Naoroji lobbied for the Indian Civil Service (ICS) cadre to admit suitable Indians. His mission met with initial success when Indians were allowed to sit for the ICS exam, but the exam was conducted only in London. He then pushed for the ICS entrance exam to be held in India, concurrent with the exam in London. Several years later, ICS exams started being held concurrently. In this manner, Indians were groomed to be ICS officers in India.

Meanwhile, railways and postal services were being established in India. Progressively, Indians entered the defence forces as juniors. Private entrepreneurs took to modern industry, particularly in the domains of textiles, jute, coal, steel and tea, to name a few. All such activities required administrative and management talent. Indians joined as junior staff members, and a few grew into junior managerial roles. This was largely true right into the 1930s.

> Talent and management excellence are the most important ingredients to synthesise SHE, that is, sustainable, honest, and enlightened enterprises

International companies also began to develop the Indian market for their products. BAT, the original promoter of what we know today as ITC, started to set up the distribution of cigarettes throughout India. Unilever began manufacturing its globally famous Sunlight and Lifebuoy soaps and exported products to India from the 1880s. Thereafter, Unilever set up local manufacturing in the 1930s. To make, distribute and sell, initially, young British managers were deputed to appoint wholesalers in towns all over India, drawing from local trading communities. A senior Unilever officer called Andrew Knox, then chairman of what was called the overseas committee, wrote a report in the early 1930s. This report now lies in the Unilever archives. In it, Knox recorded that Unilever should "Indianize" the management to develop the Indian market. Either he was clairvoyant or just a shrewd observer, for that is exactly what the global company started to do soon after. The first Indian "covenanted manager" to be recruited was Prakash Tandon in 1937.

Among international companies, Unilever has identified and developed Indian managers since the mid-1930s. They did it so well that after several decades, HUL-recruited Indians occupy top positions in the global corporation. Arguably, Unilever has been the most successful among all companies in talent development. During the last few decades, at any point in time, the Indian subsidiary had about 150–200 managers on secondment to other geographies in which Unilever operated. The author benefitted from such a secondment when he was posted to head the Unilever subsidiary in the Arabian Peninsula several decades ago.

Dadabhai Naoroji's pursuit of recruiting Indians into the civil service resulted in Satyendranath Tagore, brother of the illustrious poet, joining the ICS in 1864. For the army, it was a momentous occasion when in 1949, Gen K M Cariappa was appointed as the first Indian to head the Indian Army. J M Lall became the first Indian CEO of Imperial Chemical Industries in 1959. When Prakash Tandon became the first Indian chairman of Hindustan Lever in 1961, it was a tribute to Andrew Knox's vision, and was notable for business management.

It was not only the international companies who started to take such deliberate steps. Indian entrepreneurs began to develop their ambitions. Textile mills came up in Bombay and Ahmedabad. Jute mills were set up in undivided Bengal. Tea plantations and factories were established in Assam, Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Tata set up the first steel plant and hydroelectric power stations. They recruited foreigners for technical help, or trained their human resources. These entrepreneurs were focused on developing Indian managerial talent.

As can be seen from this brief review, talent management has been a complex and long journey, demanding great persistence and patience. Talent management represents the "infinite game", to borrow Simon Sinek's term.

RaGa's wit

Apropos of Congress charges against govt don't hide its failures (Mar 15). Had Rahul said democracy in India was a "global public good" in his London speech instead of saying it as a clarification, his popularity would have risen. Timely use of wit was absent.

Selfish interests

Apropos of Sorry, it's not about Lineker's job or BBC but about the boat child (Mar 14). The "liberal and developed" West likes to act as the harbinger of justice and equality by trying to interfere in the matters of developing nations. American billionaire Soros' comments on the Adani-Hindenburg issue and the West holding poor developing nations responsible for global warming prove that the developed countries only have their own selfish interests in mind.

Vote from home

Apropos of Overcoming voter apathy a big challenge (Mar 15). The "vote from home" initiative is an imaginative programme that should succeed in implementation. Aged people with health problems as well as the youth, comfortable in the digital environment, would welcome this. Authorities must ensure the initiative is not overwhelmed with too many procedural complications.
Dr K Parameswaran, Coimbatore

Strengthening democracy

The apathy of urban voters is appalling. Living in their comfort zones, not casting votes and then blaming the government for societal evils seems to be the mantra of urban voters. "Vote from home" for senior citizens is a welcome move. Democracy will be strengthened through participation of more and more people in the election process.

Citizen's apology

It looks like neither PM Modi or Rahul will apologise for damaging India's image on foreign soil. For the way lawmakers are wasting taxpayers' money, on behalf of both Modi and Rahul, I would like to apologise to the people of India for damaging our image on foreign soil. Hopefully both parties will accept this unconditional apology and resume the functioning of Parliament.

Pak yet to confirm India's invitation to SCO meets

Earlier, Islamabad had not sent any entry for SCO film fest in Mumbai

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

WITH the ongoing Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) presidency, India has been hosting various meetings and also inviting all members, including Pakistan.

However, Pakistan has skipped these meetings, barring once which it attended virtually last week (the Chief Justice meeting) but only after Pakistan downgraded its participation.

India has sent an invite to Pakistan for the Foreign Ministers meet that would be held on May 4 in Goa, but hasn't got a response yet.

Invites have also been sent to them to attend the Home Ministers' meet and National Security Adviser (NSA) meetings on March 29 and Defence Ministers' meeting on March 27.

Pakistan's foreign ministry spokesperson, regarding their participation in the foreign ministers meet, had earlier said that the country would revert to the invitation in time before the event.

Earlier in January, Pakistan was the only country among the eight Shanghai Cooperation Organisation members that had not sent any entry for the SCO film festival that took place in Mumbai. Other members had sent 57 entries.

SCO HAS 8 MEMBERS

The eight-member SCO includes India, Russia, China, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan and Pakistan. Afghanistan, Belarus, Iran and Mongolia are SCO observers and Armenia, Azerbaijan, Cambodia and Nepal are SCO dialogue partners.

The eight-member SCO includes India, Russia, China, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan and Pakistan. While Afghanistan, Belarus, Iran and Mongolia are SCO observers and Armenia, Azerbaijan, Cambodia and Nepal are SCO dialogue partners.

From the outset, the SCO presented itself as a bulwark against "terrorism, separatism and extremism", a language that sought to capitalise on the global counter-terrorist consensus of the 9/11 era, as well as reflecting real concerns in Beijing about threats to Chinese Communist Party power.

The SCO's main goals are:

- Strengthening mutual trust and neighbourliness among the member states;
- Promoting their effective cooperation in politics, trade, the economy, research, technology, and culture, as well as in education, energy, transport, tourism, environmental protection, and other areas;
- Making joint efforts to maintain and ensure peace, security, and stability in the region;
- Moving towards the establishment of a democratic, fair and rational new international political and economic order.

However, India is part of the four-nation security Quad that includes the US, Australia, Japan and India.

Its primary aim is to thwart Chinese attempts to assert territorial hegemony on smaller nations around the South China Sea and counter Chinese economic influence over smaller nations looking for easier loans and then getting into a debt trap. On the other hand, Russia is already at war in Ukraine and faces massive sanctions from the West.

Putin has a vision of a Russia-led 'Greater Eurasia' community of nations – and for this to work, it needs to play ball with both Beijing and Delhi.

Arunachal an integral part of India: US

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE United States has recognised the McMahon Line as the international boundary between the Indian state of Arunachal Pradesh and China.

The US recognition is in response to a resolution introduced in the US Senate which, while talking of the Indo-Pacific, sees Arunachal Pradesh as an integral part of India.

Senator Bill Hagerty said on Tuesday, "This bipartisan resolution expresses the Senate's support for unequivocally recognising the state of Arunachal Pradesh as an integral part of India, condemning China's military aggression to change the status quo along the Line of Actual Control, and further enhancing the US-India strategic partnership and the Quad in support of the free and open Indo-Pacific."

Senator Bill Hagerty introduced the resolution along with Senator Jeff Merkley in the Senate and raised the issue of threats to freedom of the Indo-Pacific.

"At a time when China continues to pose grave and gathering threats to the Free and Open Indo-Pacific, it is critical for the United States to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with our strategic partners in the region, especially India," Senator Bill Hagerty said.

The resolution also refuted the Chinese claim on Arunachal Pradesh and recognized it as the Indian territory.

BORDER STANDOFF

The PLA & Indian Army have disengaged from 5 of the 7 standoff locations

Both sides are continuing with military and diplomatic level talks to resolve issues

There are more than 50,000 well equipped troops deployed on both sides of LAC in Eastern Ladakh

Both sides have created permanent habitats and smooth logistics lines to keep their troops deployed

"America's values supporting freedom and a rules-based order must be at the centre of all of our actions and relationships around the world, especially as the PRC government pushes an alternative vision," Merkley said.

"This resolution makes clear that the United States views the Indian state of Arunachal Pradesh as part of the Republic of India — not the People's Republic of China — and commits the US to deepening support and assistance to the region, alongside like-minded international partners and donors," he said.

The resolution also talks of strengthening the US-India bilateral partnership further in the areas of defence, technology, economics, and people-to-people ties.

It also mentions promoting the multilateral cooperation with India through the Quad, the East Asia Summit alongside our partners in the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), and other international forums.

Senator John Cornyn cosponsored the resolution.

The resolution came amid the prevalent tensions along the Line of Actual Control since May 2020 which has led to a deadly clash in Galwan in Eastern Ladakh which led to the loss of lives from both sides. This has also led to increased deployment of troops all along the LAC. The clashes between the troops spread in the eastern sector. On December 9, 2022, PLA troops tried to transgress the LAC in the Yangtse area of Tawang Sector and unilaterally change the status quo.

Briefing Parliament about the clash Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said, "The Chinese attempt was contested by our troops in a firm and resolute manner. The ensuing face-off led to a physical scuffle in which the Indian Army bravely prevented the PLA from transgressing into our territory and compelled them to return to their posts. The scuffle led to injuries to a few personnel on both sides. I wish to share with this House that there are no fatalities or serious casualties on our side."

The People's Republic of China which calls Arunachal Pradesh as South Tibet lays its claim over this 90,000 sq km area.

In December 2021 the Chinese government renamed 15 places of Arunachal Pradesh on its map. Of the 3,488 km long LAC Arunachal Pradesh shares a 1,126 km portion.

As per the Ministry of Home Affairs, the total length of LAC stands at 3,488 km divided into Western Sector (Ladakh), Middle Sector (Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand) and Eastern Sector (Sikkim and Arunachal Pradesh). China also lays claim on 38,000 sq km territory of Aksai China.

Over 50% of rural households use fossil fuel for cooking: NSSO

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE National Sample Survey Office (NSSO) carried out the Multiple Indicator Survey (MIS) covering the entire country in its 78th round. The survey says that over 50% of rural households do not use clean source of energy for cooking food.

Overall, around 37 per cent of households still use polluted sources of energy for cooking purposes. It raises questions over the success of Government of India's flagship scheme, Pradhan Mantri Ujjawala Yojana (PMUY), under which over 9.58 crore households received LPG cylinders. However in a stark difference, 92% of urban households use clean energy sources for cooking. Here clean fuel refers to LPG, other natural gas, gobar gas, other biogas, electricity (including solar/ wind power generators) and solar cooker.

Experts say that higher costs of LPG are major hindrances against the scheme. The filling rate of the LPG cylinder has been low. However, last year Rameshwar Teli, Minister of State in the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas in Lok Sabha, informed Parliament that the per capita consumption of PMUY beneficiaries increased from 3.01 refills in 2019-20 to 3.68 in 2021-22. Domestic emission is one of the major sources of pollution in the Indo-Gangetic plains, one of the most polluted regions of the planet. People are using firewood, chips and crop residue, kerosene, dung cake and other traditional sources of fuels for household cooking, which is the primary source of emissions of Particulate Matters (PM) 2.5 in Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, West Bengal, Chandigarh and Delhi.

Households using fossil fuels

Sources of energy	Rural	Urban	All
Cooking	50.2	8	36.9
Lighting	1.3	0.3	1
Heating	81.3	23.1	63.4
Cooking and Lighting and Heating	83.6	24.1	65.3

Fossil Fuels and Non-Renewable for Cooking, Lighting, Heating (in percent)

Source: 78th round NSSO Report on the Multiple Indicator Survey report

Pollution unlimited in rural areas

People are using firewood, chips and crop residue, kerosene, dung cake and other traditional sources of fuels for household cooking, which is the primary source of emissions of Particulate Matters (PM) 2.5

"The unclean fuels contribute nearly 19 per cent of the total emissions in the region," said Bhupender Yadav, Union minister for environment, forest and climate change, told the Lok Sabha. The NSSO survey was scheduled for January-December 2020, but due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the survey continued up until August 15, 2021. The report also says that 99 per cent of households lighting their house and 36.6 per cent households heating their house are using a clean energy source.

Panel slams Budget cuts for MGNREGS

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

TAKING strong exception to the slashing of Budget allocation for the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (MGNREGS) in the current financial year, a Standing Committee on Rural Development said that the rural job scheme is the last resort of succour for the jobless section and worked as a life line for lakhs of people during Covid-19 pandemic.

The panel, which submitted its report in the Rajya Sabha on Wednesday, said the budget estimates for MGNREGS have been reduced by ₹29,400 crore for 2023-24 when compared to revised estimates of 2022-23.

"The Act governing the MGNREGS provides 'Right to Work' to such deprived sections of the rural populace who are willing to work," said the report. "There was an increase in the allocation in the previous two to three years because of abnormal situations like Covid-19 pandemic, Ukraine war, and inflation... now the situation has normalised a bit. In 2020-21, the original budget was ₹61,000 crore," the ministry said.

In a first, cycling expedition in search of INA roots in east Asia

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Indian Army's cycle expedition team created a national record by covering 5,374 km traversing through six South East Asian countries. The expedition was flagged off by Minister of State Defence Ajay Bhatt on Wednesday.

The Ministry of Defence in a statement said, "The Minister commended the NIMAS team for displaying extreme endurance and resilience and making the cycling expedition a great success."

The expedition was carried out by a team of Dirang, Arunachal Pradesh based National Institute of Mountaineering & Adventure Sports (NIMAS) which comes under the MoD. The expedition team of four service personnel, presently posted with NIMAS, led by Director, NIMAS Col Ranveer Singh Jamwal cycled through six South East Asian Nations - Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore. The expedition commenced on January 16 from Hanoi in Vietnam and culminated on March 6 at Indian National Army (INA) memorial in Singapore. The team visited over 10 monuments, memorials and interacted with INA veterans, revisiting the stories of sacrifice and bravery of INA. The team cycled across the entire length of Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore.

MoS Defence flagging off the expedition

Talking about their meetings with INA soldiers team leader said, "We feel elated and humbled for having met INA veterans and learn about the then INA arm called 'Balak Sena' that inducted child warriors at an impressionable age of as young as 8 years." Colonel Jamwal is the director of the Dirang, Arunachal Pradesh-based NIMAS and is the only Indian to have climbed the highest mountain of all 7 summits along with three Everest Summits.

The route led the teams paddle in extreme weather conditions where the team members cycled on an average of 9-10 hours a day. In addition, the team, also scaled the highest peak of Vietnam Mount Fansipan (3,143m). Colonel Ranveer Jamwal said, "We covered six nations in less than 40 days by cycling nearly 200 km on certain days through rough terrains, gravel roads, dense remote jungles in extremely warm weather with no facilities enroute at times."

On March 3, High Commissioner of India to Singapore Shri P Kumaran had felicitated the team for successful completion of the expedition.

It was part of the events organised to mark India's G-20 presidency and in line with the country's theme of 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav'.

16 STUDENTS, INCLUDING 8 FROM IITs, DIED BY SUICIDE IN 2022

Sixteen students, including eight from IITs, died by suicide in 2022, due to academic stress, family and personal reasons, mental health issues etc, the Rajya Sabha was informed on Wednesday. In 2023, six cases were reported, three each from IITs and National Institute of Technology (NITs). In 2019, 16 students - eight each from IITs and NITs - died by suicide. In 2021, seven students - four - from IITs - took the extreme step, while in 2020, five students - three from IITs - died by suicide. In a written answer, Women and Child Development Minister Smriti Zubin Irani said the GHI "should not be taken at face value. Out of its four indicators, only one indicator, i.e., undernourishment, is directly related to hunger." GHI does not reflect India's true picture as it is a flawed measure of 'Hunger,' she said. India ranks 107 out of 121 countries on the Global Hunger Index in which it fares worse than all countries in South Asia barring Afghanistan.

Maha govt employees on indefinite strike over Old Pension Scheme

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maharashtra government on Wednesday threatened the 17 lakh-odd state government employees who are on an indefinite strike demanding the restoration of the Old Pension Scheme with invocation of the Maharashtra Essential Services Maintenance Act (MESMA) against them.

The Act empowers the government to punish errant employees with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to ₹3,000, or with both. "The same shall be applicable to any person who instigates or incites another person to participate in strike," reads the law.

The state government had on Tuesday tabled and passed the Maharashtra Essential Services Maintenance Act, 2023 (MESMA). The Maharashtra Essential Services Maintenance Act, 2017, was in effect for five years, from February 1, 2018 till February 28, 2023. Now, from March 1 till Tuesday, the state had no law to deal with a strike or stop work agitation called by employees.

The said Act will be applicable for the next five years.

Local government authorities have been asked by CM Eknath Shinde to take a call over invoking MESMA against the employees who are not attending to essential services like health and schools. The strike has hit government-run hospitals due to the absence of nurses, ward boys, technicians and helpers, with patients not getting the requisite treatment or being able to avail of services like MRIs and CT scans.

The employees of Mumbai-based Sir JJ Hospital on Wednesday refused to rejoin work and set fire to the notices issued to them by the state government to do so.

A similar notice was also issued by the Aurangabad district collector to staffers working in local hospitals and health centres. The primary and secondary teachers also refused to resume duties, being firm on their demand of the restoration of the OPS.

Most class III and IV govt employees in the state are on strike, while class I and II are expected to join it on March 26. The striking employees are citing the example of Congress-run governments in Himachal Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan where the Old Pension Scheme is in operation.

"We deserve a decent life after retirement. We want social security. The Old Pension Scheme should be implemented as early as possible. We are not afraid of MESMA, let the government do anything, we are firm on our demand," defiant state government employees said.

Uproar over OPS in MP House, Cong stages walkout

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

Having already promised implementation of the old pension scheme (OPS), if it returns to power in Madhya Pradesh, the opposition Congress raised the issue on the floor of the Vidhan Sabha on Wednesday, with its members staging walk out, demanding OPS resumption in the central Indian state.

The development happened during the Question Hour, when the former minister and senior Congress MLA Sajjan Singh Verma questioned whether the government was planning to restore the OPS, which has been ended for all state employees, who were recruited after April 1, 2004.

Replying to the question, the state's finance minister Jagdish Dewda, while informing that the new pension scheme has been implemented in the state for all those employees, who recruited on or after January 1, 2005, added that no proposal for resuming the OPS was under the state government's consideration presently. The reply triggered uproar in the House, as the Congress MLAs, while terming it an injustice, demanded resumption of the OPS in the state.

Gehlot in dock as aide targets senior minister for 'supporting' Raje

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

SIROHI MLA Sanyam Lodha, who is an advisor to Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot, created a flutter in the Rajasthan Assembly on Wednesday after he took on Urban Development & Housing minister Shanti Dhariwal who is regarded as number two in the state cabinet.

The independent MLA, who extends outside support to the Congress government, alleged that Dhariwal was guilty of 'colluding' with senior BJP leader Vasundhara Raje and wasn't acting against her over some dubious land deals executed during her tenure as the CM.

He also accused the state government of not acting against Raje for failing to vacate her official house to which she was no longer entitled.

"You are showing such greatness to her that despite the order of the Supreme Court, you got the former chief minister's government bungalow allotted from the Assembly pool. You did this despite Vasundhara Raje wanting to put you in jail during her term as CM and she even wanted to implicate you forcefully. You did not cancel the wrongly allotted land of the then CM Raje in four and a half years," he said.

Lodha went on to remark that between 2013 and 2018, Congress leaders had made allegations about corruption in the Raje government, and even the PWD's office in Sirohi was surrendered by the Collector to the district council, which allotted 10 percent of that valuable land worth Rs 50 crore to the BJP for an office.

A Congress councillor and the Leader of the Opposition had moved the High Court on this issue.

Political circles are now abuzz about a Gehlot aide targeting the government in such a sharp manner.

'#60-40 Nay Chalto' trending on Twitter

The digital campaign launched by the youths in support of 1932-Khatiyan (land records) -based employment policy - '#60-40 Nay Chalto' on Friday, is still trending on Twitter with more than 5 lakh retweets and likes. Youths of Jharkhand seeking government jobs have opposed the audio survey in which more than 76 per cent youths suggested to start recruitment process on the basis of a policy which was in place before 2016. They claimed that there is nothing in the new recruitment rule which ensures jobs for the locals in Jharkhand, as 40 per cent of the seats are open for outsiders, which is not acceptable.

Laptops, smart-phones for class 10, 12 toppers

Jharkhand for the first time would give laptops and smart-phones along with cash prizes to state toppers in the state boards, CBSE and ICSE/ISC board exams. Earlier, state toppers of class 10 and 12 board examinations conducted by Jharkhand Academic Council (JAC) used to receive cash prizes. However, a decision has been taken to honour those toppers who will graduate from CBSE, ICSE/ISC boards, too. State would also be providing laptops and smart-phones to each topper. According to Education Minister Jagarnath Mahato, Jharkhand would be the pioneer in this region to award laptops and smart-phones to state toppers.

Soren cabinet approves Bill to protect docs, patients

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

THE State Cabinet has given its approval to Medical Protection Act and the state government will try to get it passed during the ongoing Budget Session of Jharkhand Assembly. According to State Health Minister Banna Gupta, interest of doctors and common people has been kept in mind while formulating the Act.

"State Cabinet has given its approval to the Medical Protection Act and we will try to bring it in the ongoing Budget Session of Jharkhand Assembly," said Banna Gupta. Under this Act, no medical institution can deny to hand over the dead body to the family members, citing non-payment of the hospital bills, he added.

According to Gupta, implementation of a Medical Protection Act has been a long-pending demand of the medical fraternity in the state. Notably, the Jharkhand unit of the Indian Medical Association (IMA) has been raising repeated concern over incidents of violence against healthcare workers even during the first and second wave of Covid-19.

Recruitment exams postponed after mass protests in Kashmir

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

CAVING into the massive protests by job aspirants in Srinagar and Jammu against the hiring of blacklisted firm Aptech for conduct of recruitment process in J&K, Lt Governor administration has deferred the recruitment exams, which were scheduled to begin from Thursday.

J&K Services Selection Board, which had defended hiring of the blacklisted firm for conduct of recruitment process, announced that computer-based examinations for various posts scheduled w.e.f. 16.03.2023 to 05.04.2023 have been deferred till further intimation. Lt Governor Manoj Sinha told reporters on the sidelines of a function that the government has suspended the exams for the time being. "The exams will be held soon when J&KSSB is fully confident. Even a single doubt concerns us, as transparency is our priority. Be it recruitment based on merit we are not ready to compromise. The recruitments will be done based on merit," he said.

Reacting to postponement of exams, former J&K Chief Minister and PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti tweeted, "Power of J&Ks youth has forced authorities to defer exams. But this is still not enough unless APTECH isn't removed and a thorough probe ordered along with fresh exams conducted by a credible agency. Least LG admin can do after wasting precious time of J&Ks youngsters. (sic)"

The job aspirants have been holding daily massive protests in Srinagar, Jammu and other parts of J&K against hiring of blacklisted firm (Aptech Computers) for conduct of recruitment process on government posts in J&K. They alleged that hiring of blacklisted firm has raised a serious question mark on fairness of the process.

The agency Aptech Limited was blacklisted in many states including UP, Rajasthan, and Assam.

Gujarat tops custodial deaths in India in 5 yrs; jails in shambles

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT has the dubious distinction of topping the list of states in the country where the maximum number of custodial deaths took place over the last five years, with 80 such cases being reported,.

According to a report of the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), tabled in Parliament by the Union Ministry of Home Affairs, Gujarat saw 14 custodial deaths in 2017–18, 13 in 2018–19, 12 in 2019–20 and 24 in 2021–22.

The statistics provided by the ministry regarding the condition of inmates in Gujarat's jails also paint a dismal picture. "Gujarat state has a prison capacity of 13,999 prisoners, 16,597 prisoners are currently housed in its jails. Importantly, the numbers unequivocally show that Gujarat's jails are overflowing with 2,598 inmates," said Minister of State for Home Affairs Ajay Mishra while responding to a question posed by Congress MP Abdul Khaleque in the Lok Sabha.

In response to another question, the ministry said that Gujarat had a total of 745 police stations, of which 123 were not equipped with CCTV cameras.

According to data submitted in the Lok Sabha, the Centre did not release ₹25.58 crore it had set aside for the upgrading of the Gujarat Police for the past two years.

Gujarat Congress spokesperson Hiren Banker said, "The growing number of custodial deaths in Gandhi-Sardar's Gujarat is a source of shame for the state. The rule of law governs a civil society. However, the BJP government's use of incarceration amounts to abuse of power."

Congress leader Parthivaraj Singh took on the Gujarat government. "Gujarat's jails are already overflowing. According to a government report, 22,696 accused are still at large in Gujarat. When all of these people are apprehended, where will they be kept? Will new jails be constructed? When will they be completed?" he said.

U'khand budget focuses on youth, employment

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND Finance Minister Prem Chand Agarwal presented a Budget of ₹77,407.08 crore in the Gairsain Assembly on Wednesday, asserting that special attention would be on jobs, investment and tourism.

"We are moving towards good governance," said Agarwal. This year, the tiny hill state will host three major events of G-20, he added.

"The Budget has given special attention to the youth with the objective that they become 'job givers.' A provision of ₹40,000 crore has been made for self-employment schemes."

This is the first full Budget of the Dhami government presented in Gairsain, the summer capital of the state. While presenting the Budget, Finance Minister Agarwal said the state would be number one in the tourism sector. He described the government's efforts to scale up the export of local products as the first priority of his government. He reiterated the need to make Uttarakhand corruption-free.

MAJOR TAKEAWAYS

₹1,000cr. for Joshimath landslide area

₹26.21 L crore for Science City and Science Centre

₹101cr. for Metro Rail in Dehradun

₹169cr. for children of poor people

₹100cr. provision for G-20 events

₹7,600cr. to be spent on pension

₹15 CRORE FOR BALIKA CYCLE SCHEME

"The Budget is inclusive with special provisions for the youth, women, farmers and traders, labourers and employed people," Agarwal said.

"Efforts have been made to incorporate suggestions received from the public in the Budget announcements," he said. "We need to accelerate the development of border villages. These villages bordering China and Nepal are facing a serious problem of migration. The central government has started the 'Vibrant Village Scheme' to change the picture of such villages. At the state level, a blueprint of the CM'S Marginal Village Tourism Development Scheme is being prepared," said the minister.

Before the Budget was presented in the House, Chif Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said the government has made serious efforts to include public suggestions into the Budget. "The provisions focus on employment, investment and tourism," he said.

State BJP chief Mahendra Bhatt welcomed the budget, saying it will pave the way for a self-reliant state. "It will create self-employment opportunities for the youth," Bhatt said. "With its emphasis on self-employment, tourism, agriculture and women, the Budget will steer the state on the path of becoming a self-reliant and a leading state of this decade," he said. Bhatt also expressed satisfaction over the allocation of ₹1,000 crore for land subsidence-hit Joshimath.

"By allocating ₹1,000 crore for Joshimath, the state has again proved that it can do anything to bring relief to the affected people," Bhatt said.

Gangster's interview 'shown from prison' sends Mann govt into tizzy

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Punjab jail department has strongly refuted that the Bathinda jail was the venue of an interview telecast on Tuesday by a news channel of Lawrence Bishnoi, the key suspect in the killing of singer Shubhdeep Singh aka Sidhu Moosewala.

In the purported interview, Lawrence Bishnoi admitted that he got the singer killed.

The Punjab jail department asserted that the interview was not recorded from any jail in the state. IGP Jaskaran Singh, who heads the Special Investigation Team probing the Moosewala murder met the parents of the slain singer on Wednesday and told them about the progress made in the case.

In the 'interview', Bishnoi purportedly admitted that a plan to kill Moosewala was hatched along with another gangster Satinderjit Singh alias Goldy Brar and that his cousin Sachin Bhisnoi and he had "arranged" everything.

Rumours are baseless, says jail department

A jail department official said it was impossible to shoot the interview from the jail as there are jammers there and mobile phones don't work. "This is to clarify that these rumors are baseless and that this video is not from any jail in the state," he said.

The murder was reportedly meant to avenge the killings of Vicky Middukhera and Gurlal Brar. The location where the interview took place is not clear.

A few hours after the interview was telecast, the jail department denied that any such interview was recorded inside any jail of the state.

A statement issued by the state prisons department stated, "It has come to our notice that a private TV news channel has aired an interview of prisoner Lawrence Bishnoi purportedly from inside the Bhatinda jail."

"This is to clarify that these rumors are baseless and that this video is not from either Bhatinda jail, where the prisoner is currently confined or, from any other jail in Punjab," said the police.

"It is further clarified that this prisoner is at present confined to the High Security Zone of Bathinda Jail where strict surveillance is kept over his activities 24×7. If anyone is caught spreading fake news maligning the image of Punjab Prisons administration, action as per law shall be initiated," read a police statement.

A jail department official said it was impossible to shoot the interview from the jail as there are jammers there and mobile phones don't work.

It is learnt that Bishnoi was taken on a production warrant from Bathinda jail to Rajasthan on February 15 and brought back to Bathinda on March 10 for a case registered against him in Jaipur.

WASHINGTON

A presidential advisory subcommittee has recommended the federal government to extend the grace period for H1-B workers, who have lost their jobs, from the existing 60 days to 180 days so that the workers have enough opportunities to find a new job or other alternatives."The immigration subcommittee recommends the Department of Homeland Security and the US Citizenship and Immigration Services to extend the grace period for H1-B workers, who have lost their jobs, from 60 days to 180 days," Ajay Jain Bhutoria, member of the President's Advisory Commission on Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders.

Relief for Imran as arrest put on hold for a day after widespread violence

Court orders police and paramilitary rangers to stop operation to arrest him till Thursday

LAHORE

IN a temporary relief for Imran Khan, a Pakistani court on Wednesday ordered the police to stop its operation outside the former prime minister's residence in Lahore to arrest him in a corruption case, amidst clashes between the security personnel and his supporters.

The Zaman Park in Lahore where Khan lives remained under siege for the last two days and the government sent the elite Rangers to aid police teams who struggled on Tuesday to muscle their way through a ring of enraged Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaaf (PTI) supporters to arrest party chairman Imran. The police, with their riot gear on, closed in on Khan's home to comply with the court orders to arrest the 70-year-old cricketer-turned-politician in the Toshakhana case.

However, the police withdrew from the area after the Lahore High Court (LHC) ordered them to stop their operation at Zaman Park till 10 am on Thursday. The LHC summoned the Punjab inspector-general, chief secretary and Islamabad police (operations) head on a petition filed by PTI leader Fawad Chaudhry seeking order for the government to stop the police action at Imran's residence.

A vehicle burns after it was set on fire amid clashes between supporters of Imran Khan and riot police on Wednesday | AFP

Imran's party on Tuesday challenged the police operation in the Lahore High Court, requesting it to direct the government to end its bid to arrest the party chief.

"IGP Punjab Dr Usman Anwar appeared before the court and told it that police had to launch the operation as Islamabad police had brought an arrest warrant for Imran Khan in the Toshakhana gifts case. We had to implement this order under the law. He said some 59 policemen have been injured during the clashes with the PTI workers," a court official said.

"The PTI advocate told the court that the sessions court Islamabad had issued the order to ensure the presence of Khan in the court on March 18 in the Toshakhana gifts case... why police operation was launched to arrest him four days before, requesting it intervenes to save human lives," the official said.

LHC's Justice Tariq Saleem Sheikh asked the PTI counsel whether the Islamabad High Court is hearing the PTI plea to cancel the arrest warrants of Khan in the Toshakhana case.

"The counsel informed the judge that the IHC is hearing Khan's petition. On this Justice Sheikh said let the IHC decide the matter and meanwhile the government stop the police operation forthwith," the official said. PTI

BRISBANE

THE Honorary Consulate of India in Brisbane was forced to close down on Wednesday due to safety concerns after Khalistan supporters organised an unauthorised gathering and blocked the entry of the office, days after Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese assured India that his government will not tolerate "extreme actions".

The Honorary Consulate located on Swann Road in the Taringa suburb of Brisbane was forced to close down after Khalistan supporters blockaded the entry. Queensland Police says it was an unauthorised gathering, however, they were allowed to enter the consulate property and block anyone from entering it, according to The Australia Today portal.

Parvinder Singh, a resident of regional Queensland, said he took leave from his work to attend an appointment at Indian Consulate, in Brisbane.

However, Singh is left with no choice but to go back and reschedule his appointment to get his young child's Overseas Citizen of Indian card issues sorted.

"These thugs should not be allowed to dictate how we live our life in Australia," Singh said. "They are threatening us when we visit Gurughar (Gurudwara) now these Khalistan supporters are entering into our daily life for worse." "Queensland government and police need to deal with the full force of the law as Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said a few days back," Singh added.

"Australia won't tolerate any extreme actions and attacks that took place in religious buildings, and there is no place for such action against Hindu temples," Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said while addressing a press conference in New Delhi on March 11.

Sarah L Gates, the Director of Hindu Human Rights based in Brisbane, said: Indian Consulate was forced to close today due to safety concerns after Sikhs for Justice targeted them with their propaganda. PTI

Garcetti gets final Senate nod to be US envoy to India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE US Senate voted 52-42 in favour of Eric Garcetti as the next ambassador to India late on Wednesday night (India time), two years after his name was first proposed by President Joe Biden. He got the support of seven Republican senators as well while three Democrats voted against his candidature.

The position had been vacant ever since Kenneth Juster stepped down as the US envoy in January 2021 after Biden was elected president.

Earlier in the day, the Senate on voted on a cloture motion limiting debate on his nomination, which indicated the ruling Democrats had enough votes for his selection for the key post.

Last week, the Senate foreign relations committee had voted 13-8 in Garcetti favour.

The voting process initiated by Senate Majority leader Chuck Schumer came amidst a fresh round of campaign against Garcetti, who is facing charges of inaction in a case of sexual assault by one of his staffers when he was the mayor of Los Angeles. For his part, Garcetti has maintained that he was unaware of the misdemeanor.

Garcetti's confirmation was pending before the US Congress since July 2021, when he was first nominated. During his hearing at the Senate foreign relations committee meeting in December 2021, he had said the human rights situation in India would be a core piece of his diplomatic engagement during his tenure.

SVB FALLOUT

While domestic investors were counting losses amid SVB fallout, situation was worse in overseas markets as stocks in European markets were hammered by banking crisis concerns

Market falls for fifth day, investors brace for more volatility ahead

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

GLOOM in the equity markets continued as the domestic equity benchmarks BSE Sensex and Nifty 50 fell for fifth straight day, declining 344 points and 71 points respectively on Wednesday.

While the domestic investors were counting their losses amid Silicon Valley Bank fallout, the situation was even worse in overseas markets as stocks in European markets were hammered by the concerns of another banking crisis.

Shares of Credit Suisse, Switzerland's second-largest bank, declined 24 % on Wednesday, the biggest one-day selloff on record after the lender's biggest shareholder, Saudi National Bank, said it could not raise its 10 % stake citing regulatory issues.

Earlier, in its recently published annual report for 2022, Credit Suisse Group disclosed a 'material weakness' in its internal controls over the financial reporting process during 2021 and 2022.

The main indices in Paris and Milan fell more than 3%, while Frankfurt and London shed nearly 2.5% in late morning trades. Several bank stocks, including Credit Suisse, were temporarily halted from trade during the morning due to the steep losses.

BNP Paribas was down 11.1%, Societe Generale was down 12.9%, Commerzbank was down 10.1% and Deutsche Bank was down 8.6%.

Crash in shares overseas stock markets will cast a shadow on domestic equity markets performance on Thursday. Keeping their fingers crossed, investors are bracing for a volatile trade on Thursday.

"Domestic gains were short-lived, as European markets fell on fears that the ECB would raise interest rates by at least 25 bps at its meeting on Thursday. High-interest rate is the worry of the stock market," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

After a gap up opening on Wednesday morning, BSE Sensex surged over 570 points to touch a high of 58,473.63 tracking positive overseas cues, wiped-out gains in the noon deals and tumbled to a low of 57,456 - down 1,018 points from the day's high.

Goods exports fall for 3rd month

Textiles, petroleum products and plastic & linoleum witnessed massive fall in February

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

INDIA'S exports fell year-on-year (YoY) for the third straight month to $ 33.88 billion in February, according to the commerce ministry data.

Goods exports declined by 8.8% on yearly basis as compared with 6.58% fall in the previous month. According to the ministry, export of textiles, petroleum products and plastic & linoleum witnessed massive decline in February because of subdued demand on account of recessionary effects in major economies.

However, sequentially, the merchandise exports have increased as they stood at $32.91 billion in January. Commodities which recorded noticeable growth include electronics, gems & jewellery, drugs & pharmaceuticals, iron ore, rice, oil and other cereals.

SUM & SUBSTANCE

	Feb-23 ($ bn)	Feb-22 ($ bn)
Merchandise Exports	33.88	37.15
Merchandise Imports	51.31	55.9
Services Exports	29.15	21.3
Services Imports	14.55	12.97
Overall Exports	63.02	58.46
Overall Imports	65.85	68.87
Trade balance	-2.83	-10.41

In addition, imports declined by 8.21% to $51.31 billion as against $55.9 billion recorded in the corresponding month last year. Items which registered growth in imports include fruits & vegetables, coal, wood, chemicals, plastic and iron & steel, among others. Import of commodities like gold and silver fell massively in February 2023.

Speaking about April-February period of this fiscal, the overall merchandise exports surged 7.5% to $405.94 billion. Also, imports during the same period increased by 18.82% to $653.47 billion.

Meanwhile, trade deficit narrowed to an 18-month low of $17.43 billion in February 2023, as compared with $18.75 billion in the year-ago period.

Commerce secretary Sunil Barthwal briefing the media said, "going by the trend, India's goods and services exports will cross $750 billion in FY23. We have kept the momentum despite the global headwinds. Exporters have kept the momentum. Services exports are doing very well. Trade deficit has actually come down. Hopefully we will be doing better."

He added that the ministry has begun the exercise of setting the target for the next financial year too.

"Exports of pharmaceuticals, gems & jewellery have posted remarkable growth in February, despite an 8.8% decline in overall merchandise exports during the month... Monthly trade has been falling due to slowdown in imports, which will help us in ending the current financial year with a manageable level of current account deficit," said Vijay Kalantri, Chairman, MVIRDC World Trade Centre, Mumbai.

Start-ups in India rush to withdraw deposits from SVB

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

SINCE depositors have been allowed to withdraw their funds from the collapsed Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) from Monday, according to reports, start-ups in India have so far withdrawn close to $300 million from the bank.

The reports said start-ups have processed somewhere between $250 million and $300 million in past 24 hours. However, a couple of venture capitalists and start-up founders that this newspaper spoke to said $300 million seems to be a huge amount. Instead of withdrawing the whole amount, they could withdraw a certain amount and deposit it in another bank in the US or park it in India, said a start-up founder.

Many Indian SaaS (Software-as-a-service) start-ups have their deposits with SVB, which was considered as a key lender for start-ups.

Mobile gaming platform Nazara Technologies' step-down subsidiaries - Kiddopia and Mediawrkz- hold about ₹64 crore cash balances at SVB, and the firm said on Wednesday they have been given unrestricted access to the entire amount.

Start-ups withdraw $300 million in 24 hours

Reports says that start-ups have processed somewhere between $250 million and $300 million in the past 24 hours. However, a couple of venture capitalists and start-up founders that this newspaper spoke to said $300 million seems to be a huge amount.

"From this amount, a sum of ₹60 crore has been transferred to bank accounts outside of SVB and balance amount ₹4 crore remains in SVB accounts for unrestricted operational use," it said in a regulatory filing. Ruchit Garg's Harvesting Farmer Network (HIN) has deposits at SVB. He told TNIE that they have over $250,000 deposits and that he could login to the network and everything seems to be fine.

HFN is an agriculture technology platform, and Garg stressed on diversifying funds instead of parking in one bank. Sanjay Swamy, Managing Partner at Prime Venture Partners, said, "All our companies banking with SVB have been able to move 100% of their money out of SVB to other US-based banks." "Several Indian IT services businesses and SaaS firms are dependent on the BFSI sector in the US. If the regional banks are impacted, they would definitely look to cut costs and IT services would be the first expenses that get cut," said Ramit Arora, co-founder and President at Biz2X, a digital lending SaaS platform.

Shaktikanta Das named 'Governor of the Year'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

RESERVE BANK OF INDIA Governor, Shaktikanta Das, on Wednesday, named 'Governor of the Year' for 2023 by Central Banking, an international economic research journal.

Former governor Raghuram Rajan was the first to be conferred the title back in 2015 from the country. Awarding the 66-year-old Das, who is into his second term at the Mint Road, the publication said the governor helped manoeuvre the ship as it faced multiple obstacles since his appointment in December 2019, the Covid-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine war being the two major tests.

An economy as complex as India's will likely never be free from challenges but, as Das faces up to the remainder of his second term, he can take pride in major achievements so far," the award citation said.

Russia shipped 40% of India's crude imports in Feb, says IEA report

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

Russia accounted for nearly 40% of India's crude oil imports in February 2023, according to the International Energy Agency (IEA). The IEA in its monthly report said that India and China remained the top buyers of Russian oil during the month, with the two countries accounting for 70% Russian oil exports last month.

However, Russia's oil exports fell 500,000 barrels a day to 7.5 million barrels a day as the EU restrictions kicked in from February.

The monthly report, which was released on Wednesday, also highlighted that Russia's oil export revenue fell to the lowest following the price cap imposed on its crude export by the G7 countries but it found an alternative market. The country increased its crude export to Africa, Türkey and the Middle East. In February 2023, exports to Asia grew by less than 300 thousand barrels per day (Kb/d). Shipments to Africa, Türkey and the Middle East rose by 300 kb/d, 240 kb/d and 175 kb/d, respectively, while Latin America received roughly the same as before the Ukraine war. In a bid to stop Russia making profit on crude, a key source of its revenue, western countries had put a price cap on its oil export. They imposed ceilings on price of Russian crude oil and refined products to stop the country from "funding the war". Following this move, as per the IEA, Russia's oil export revenue fell to the lowest in February. Russia's estimated oil export revenues fell to $11.6 billion, down 42% from a year-ago. Exports to China and India also declined, while cargoes without a destination surged by 600 kb/d to 800 kb/d.

"While Russian oil pro duction remained near pre-war levels in February, Russia's exports to world markets tumbled by more than 500 kb/d (thou sand barrels per day) to 7.5 mb/d (million barrels per day)," reads the report. "It remains to be seen if there will be sufficient appetite for Russian oil products now," said IEA in a report.

Known as Bia, the Salvador-born boxer will be looking for third medal in the competition. The Tokyo Olympics silver medallist, who was inspired by her father to take up the sport, is the No 1 seed.

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

IT'S safe to say that the build-up to the IBA Women's World Championships was far from ideal with uncertainty regarding the status of the marquee event. Some major stakeholders including USA and Ireland are among teams to boycott the event, adding to the confusion. The lack of Olympic quotas, as per International Olympic Committee (IOC) mandate, and some notable names might have taken the shine off the marquee event, but it's still a critical championship for the 300-plus pugilists who'll be part of it. With some important qualification events set to be held before the 2024 Paris Olympics, the New Delhi event, which kicks off on Thursday, is an opportunity for the participants to assess their levels.

Take the case of Estelle Mossely, one of the well-established names who'll be featuring in the championship. The last time Mossely was part of this global event was in 2016 at Astana, where she had dominated her rivals to clinch gold. She had hit the zenith when she repeated the feat during the Rio Olympics before turning pro.

After buzzing at the pro circuit, Mossely, 30, is now returning to amateur boxing with just one aim in mind. For her this championship is the perfect platform to understand her potential rivals and prepare her game ahead of Paris Olympics.

"It will be a big competition. My last championship was in 2016 and I became a world champion. I have a second dream to come back for the Olympic Games and for me the World Championship is the most important competition to prepare for the Games," Mossely had said during an event.

Similarly like Mossely, there are many who enter the event with similar objectives. India's Saweety Boora is another boxer who's just looking to make the most of the opportunity at home. This will be her fifth appearance but her thirst for knowledge remains undiminished. Focussing on the present, Saweety is looking to express herself and return with a medal. "For us this is a great opportunity to compete with some of the best boxers in the world. We can learn a great deal with this experience, see where we stand ahead of important events," Saweety, a 2014 edition silver medallist, noted.

Nikhat Zareen and Lovlina Borgohain are other familiar names who'll have high interest in this championship. Nikhat has made winning a habit since her gold medal in the previous edition. The boxer from Telangana has sneaked gleefully into the shoes of legendary MC Mary Kom and has been dominant inside the ring. There has been a sense of inevitability every time Nikhat has taken the ring in recent times with results going in her favour. However, this will be a different challenge. She will be competing in the 50kg category, a weight category which generally has plenty of sharks looking to get the biggest slice of cake. "I'm very excited that India is hosting this championship and I'm looking to defend my title in a new weight category." Not long so ago, Lovlina was the toast of the nation after she became just the second Indian woman boxer after Mary Kom to medal at Olympics. But ever since IOC dropped her weight category (69kg) from the Olympic programme, she has had to adjust to 75kg. Competing against stronger and bigger boxers, Lovlina, who won Asian Championships gold in 75kg, will get glimpses of the challenges her new weight category would offer. Moreover, the championship is also a chance for the IBA — who has ticked all the right boxers in terms of promoting the championship — to mend their reputation and get in the good books of the IOC. With the IOC set to monitor the event closely, how the event pans out could shape the future of the sport.

SPORTS MINISTER OPENS EVENT

Sports minister Anurag Thakur declared the championships open at a glittering ceremony at the IG Stadium in New Delhi on Wednesday. The function was attended by Union Minister Of Port Shipping & Waterways Sarbananda Sonowal, IBA president Umar Kremlev, BFI President Ajay Singh. Sports minister of Russia Oleg Matytsin too was present

IND-AUS ODI

Kuldeep and Chahal under the scanner before WC

AGENCIES @ Mumbai

THEY were the toast of the nation going into the 2019 World Cup in England but in last four years, Kuldeep Yadav and Yuzvendra Chahal have seen more downs than ups. Kuldeep had a career-threatening knee surgery in 2021 while Chahal, has been repeatedly ignored for important T20 games and global meets. They would want to change their wheels of fortune. However with India's ODI World Cup preparations starting with the three-match series against Australia, starting Friday, the famed 'Kul-Cha' would love to serve a platter of googlies, legbreaks and flippers which their fans would like to savour.

Several members of the Indian cricket team including the stand-in captain Hardik Pandya on Wednesday began training here at the Wankhede Stadium on Wednesday but all eyes were on the two wrist spinners as they need to battle it out with Ravindra Jadeja and Washington Sundar, two multi-skilled cricketers, who are also part of this squad. Both Kuldeep and Chahal, aren't the most accomplished of batters, although the UP left-arm wrist spinner has had some degree of success at the Test level.

However both Washington and Jadeja come as a package but purely on tweaker's skills, the two wrist spinners are ahead compared to finger spinners. India's regular captain Rohit Sharma will miss the first ODI and the stand-in captain for the match, Pandya, was among those who trained for more than two hours with the white ball. Among the other players who were in attendance were pacers Mohammed Siraj, Jaydev Unadkat, Umran Malik, Shardul Thakur and among batters, Suryakumar Yadav and wicketkeeper-batsman Ishan Kishan.

IOA probe panel asks WFI chief to appear for hearing

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

BELEAGUERED Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh has apparently been asked to appear for a hearing before a seven-member committee formed by the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) to probe the allegations of sexual harassment against him. The committee was formed on the request from country's top wrestlers including Bajrang Punia, Vinesh Phogat and Sakshi Malik on January 20.

"Singh was asked to appear before the committee on March 10 but he didn't receive the communication for the same on time. He has requested the panel to give him a new date for the hearing," sources in the know of developments confirmed this daily. The hearing is expected to be next week at the IOA Bhawan.

Singh, a BJP member of parliament from Uttar Pradesh, was asked to step aside after the wrestlers held a protest against him at Jantar Mantar in New Delhi from January 18 to 20. He had already appeared before the oversight committee formed by the sports ministry on February 28 and denied all allegations levelled against him. Both committees have two common members — MC Mary Kom and Yogeshwar Dutt. It is learnt that the oversight committee had already submitted its report to the sports ministry. Earlier, the wrestlers had refused to appear before the IOA's committee citing the probe being conducted by the oversight committee. However, sources said that some of them later submitted their statements before the committee. Besides legendary boxer Mary Kom and wrestler Yogeshwar, the panel also includes archer Dola Banerjee, Indian Weightlifting Federation of India (IWLF) president Sahdev Yadav and two advocates, one male and one female.

Women's camp undecided

Meanwhile, the oversight committee, which is looking after the day-to-day affairs of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI), has not yet made an announcement regarding camp for women wrestlers selected for the Asian Championships. Women's national camp that was supposed to be held at Lucknow SAI centre, never took off because of the wrestlers' protests.

The continental event is scheduled in Astana, Kazakhstan from April 9 to 14. The camp for men freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestlers is being held at the SAI centre in Sonepat. The committee conducted selection trials in New Delhi on March 10 and 11 to pick up the Indian squad. With no camp in sight, the women wrestlers are being forced to train at their respective places for the tournament.

RCB register first win in WPL

AGENCIES @ Navi Mumbai

ELLYSE Perry headlined Royal Challengers Bangalore's collective bowling effort with a three-wicket haul as UP Warriorz were all-out for a below-par 135 in 19.3 overs. Chasing the modest total, RCB though lost three quick wickets but Kanika Ahuja (46) and Richa Ghosh (31 not out) ensured they cross the line and register their first win of the tournament.

Earlier, Perry returned with figures of 3/16 in 4 overs after being introduced late, whereas Sophie Devine (4-0-23-2), Sobhana Asha (4-0-27-2) and Megan Schutt (4-0-21-1) bowled impressive spells. However, after being restricted to 31/5 and the first 10 overs yielding only 43 runs, Warriorz were given a much-needed boost by Grace Harris (46) and Deepti Sharma (22).

Brief scores: UP Warriorz: 135 in 19.3 overs (Harris 46; Perry 3/16) lost to RCB 136/5 in 18 ovs (Kanika 46, Ghosh 31 n.o; Deepti 2/26).

Giants in need of inspiration

WITH JUST ONE WIN FROM FIVE GAMES, GUJARAT GIANTS DESPERATELY NEED TO WIN AGAINST DELHI CAPITALS. A LOOK...

TEAM COMBINATIONS A WORRY

Since the first game, Giants have been struggling to get their combinations right. They dropped Sophia Dunkley for Laura Wolvaardt before bringing her back after one game, not to mention the persistence with Annabel Sutherland in death overs which is not working. They would hoping that Thursday is the day it all works out.

Will Delhi experiment?

Given that their road to the playoffs is not under threat, Capitals could experiment a bit with their XI. The likes of Sneha Deepthi, Titas Sadhu, and Laura Harris could get an opportunity before in the last few games.

Dunkley vs pace attack

Dunkley did not come to the party against Mumbai, but will have to versus Delhi. She will be challenged by Marizanne Kapp, Tara Norris and Shikha Pandey. They are as varied — outswing, inswing, left-arm — and experienced as pacers could be.

All England Open: Sindhu out, Srikanth advances

AGENCIES @ Birmingham

THERE was no end to PV Sindhu's poor run as the Indian shuttler made a first-round exit from the All England Championships after losing to Zhang Yi Man of China in straight games here on Wednesday. The World No 9 Sindhu, a double Olympic medallist, lost 17-21, 11-21 in the 39-minute women's singles contest.

This is the third time that Sindhu has lost her first-round match this year. She had lost to Carolina Marin of Spain in Malaysia Open in January before exiting the Indian Open at the same stage in the same month. She had recently parted ways with her coach Park Tae-sang of Korea, under whose guidance she won a bronze at the Tokyo Olympics.

Sindhu was rusty and subdued throughout the match with her World No 17 opponent showing more agility and attacking intent. There was not much to differentiate initially between the two who had a 1-1 head-to-head record before Wednesday's match.

Earlier during the day, India's women's doubles pair of Treesa Jolly and Gayatri Gopichand Pullela stunned seventh-seeded Thailand duo of Jongkolphan Kititharakul and Rawinda Prajongjai 21-18, 21-14 in a first-round match.

The Indian duo will meet the Japanese pair of Yuki Fukushima and Sayaka Hirota in the pre-quarterfinals. In the men's singles, India's Kidambi Srikanth beat Toma Junior Popov of France 19-21, 21-14, 21-5 in the first round match.

Haaland's 5-goal haul a warning to City's CL rivals

AGENCIES @ Manchester

MANCHESTER City are into the Champions League quarterfinals for a sixth consecutive season, but Erling Haaland's five-goal haul in a 7-0 destruction of RB Leipzig put Europe on warning that this time may be different for the Premier League champions.

Pep Guardiola admitted before Tuesday's last 16, second leg that his reign at City will be defined by either winning or failing to win the Champions League despite his side's dominance of the Premier League in recent years.

Seven years on from Guardiola's arrival, City are still waiting for their first European crown. That is why they pushed the boat out on agents' fees and wages to win the race to sign Haaland from Borussia Dortmund for a bargain £51 million ($62 million) last summer thanks to the Norwegian's buyout clause.

In just 35 games Haaland has already rewritten City's history books by scoring 39 goals in a single season. More Champions League landmarks were reached on Tuesday as Haaland's five goals equalled the record shared by Lionel Messi and Luiz Adriano for the most in a Champions League game. In the process the 22-year-old also became the youngest player to pass 30 in Europe's premier club competition with 32 in just 25 appearances.

Inter Milan frustrate Porto

PORTO: Inter Milan held off Porto in a gritty 0-0 draw on Tuesday to reach the Champions League quarter-finals, with a 1-0 aggregate triumph. The Italian side progressed to the last eight for the first time since 2011. For the first time since 2006, both Inter and AC Milan have reached the quarter-finals.

Results: Man City 7-0 RB Leipzig (City won 8-1 on aggregate); Porto 0-0 Inter-Milan (Milan won 1-0 on aggregate).

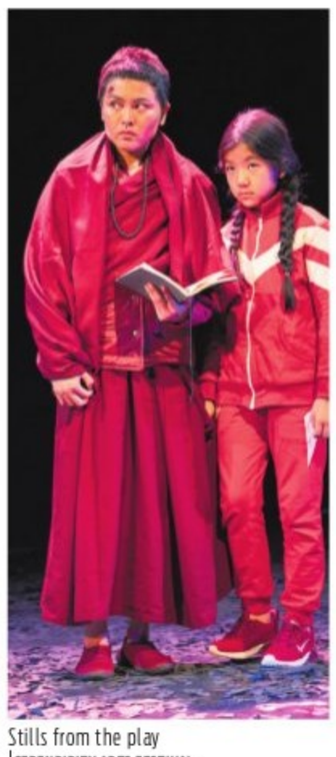
Set against the backdrop of the 2008 Lhasa protests, this play – in Tibetan with English subtitles – examines the dichotomy of the Tibetan resistance movement following decades of oppression

WEAVING FACT & FICTION



Stills from the play | SERENDIPITY ARTS FESTIVAL

DESE GOWDA

WITH his last play The Djinns of Eidgah, playwright Abhishek Majumdar explored the human cost of the Kashmir conflict. Now, with his latest play Pah-Lak, Majumdar offers a philosophical view into the nature of non-violence and its effectiveness in countering oppression in contemporary times. Having premiered at the Royal Court Theatre, London in 2019, the play, which received mixed to positive reviews, is coming to Bengaluru for the first time this weekend. The two-hour play will be staged in Tibetan with English subtitles projected above the stage.

Set against the backdrop of the 2008 Lhasa protests, Pah-Lak, meaning 'father', follows a young woman whose final act of resistance against oppression from the Chinese government sparks a wave of violence. Inspired by real events, Majumdar was compelled to create the fictional tale to understand why non-violence movements seemingly never tend to garner any reaction until violence crops up.

"While working on my previous plays, I started thinking about the role of non-violence in today's freedom movements. It seemed to be that all these movements, despite being different from each other, had a common element – violence. Of course, these movements themselves might not be violent, but there are sections which use violence as the primary tool," he shares, adding, "That, to me, seemed counter-intuitive because, non-violence movements, despite their many challenges, had established that it's possible to create change without resorting to violence. For instance, in the mid-20th century, across the world, a lot of countries achieved independence through non-violence. But just a few decades later, movements in Kashmir and Palestine, had turned violent. It basically gave the impression that if you're not violent, you will not be heard."

(Pah-Lak will be staged at Ranga Shankara on March 17 & 18. Tickets: ` 350. For more details, visit bookmyshow.com)

Of all the resistance movements currently ongoing across the world, what prompted Majumdar to pick the Tibetan movement? "I decided to study the Tibetan resistance because I was intrigued by Buddhism and its role in the Tibetan resistance and also because I had a lot of individual connections with people involved in the movement, people who I knew from my university days in Delhi and from Bengaluru," he shares. "Karnataka has one of the largest populations of Tibetans in exile. So my research started with Bengaluru, with extensive interviews of Tibetans in exile. It then took me to Dharamshala, Hong Kong, Beijing and finally to Lhasa."

Pah-Lak explores how each of us understands the purpose of life differently and how a communist's view on the purpose of life differs from that of a Buddhist monk.

Abhishek Majumdar, playwright

Weaving a fictional tale set against a historical background was a difficult task in itself. But with Pah-Lak, Majumdar set himself a high bar by opting to develop the play using Buddhist dramatisation. "The play doesn't follow western concepts of dramatisation – the kind we are accustomed to seeing in modern television or cinema. It doesn't have an Aristotelian structure, where there's usually a problem, and a protagonist will go on a journey to solve that problem, arriving at a conclusion. This kind of dramatisation usually has a few assumptions, in relation to how a protagonist is going to act. But Buddhist dramatisation is unlike western dramatisation. There, the goal is renouncement. I believe that renunciation is at the heart of the Tibetan conflict with the Chinese government. So that became the heart of Pah-Lak, it explores how each of us understands the purpose of life differently and how a communist's view on the purpose of life differs from that of a Buddhist monk. It's not necessarily about good or evil," he concludes.

Music sans borders

This city-based singer recently performed at Westminster Abbey for the Commonwealth Day celebrations and met British Royals

MONIKA MONALISA

SOMETIMES life gives you opportunities you might never have dreamt of in your wildest dreams. When 17-year-old Tiana Esther Oberoi went on stage at Westminster Abbey to perform on Commonwealth Day on March 13, the moment was surreal for her. Since it's a week-long celebration, Bengaluru-based Oberoi will also be performing today at the South Africa High Commission in London.

Oberoi, who went on stage with just two weeks of rehearsal, calls the experience of performing on such an important day a big opportunity. "It was an incredible experience being surrounded by so many important people, and there were plenty of school children as well yesterday. And just the joy when we made the music was so special. I was so proud to be able to represent my country as a person of colour on this international stage," says Oberoi.

A choir singer, Oberoi performed two songs. "It was a collaboration with the junior department of the Royal Academy of Music. Since it was Commonwealth Day, I sang an Indian song called Ari We Ari, an old Punjabi folk song, a traditional Australian song Waltzing Matilda," says Oberoi during a telephonic conversation with CE from London. Dressed in a salwar kameez with jhumkis, Oberoi wore Indian attire like a badge of honour. "I had lots of people telling me, 'Oh wow! This is so unique and you look so pretty," says Oberoi with a short giggle.

Apart from the performance, another memorable moment for the city-based girl was meeting the British Royals – King Charles and Camilla, the Queen Consort. "I actually saw the royal family – the King and Queen Consort, so that was quite interesting. They walked right in front of us while they were going down Westminster," says the excited teenager.

Oberoi, who started singing at the age of four and was trained by her mother Sandra Oberoi, moved to London in 2020 to pursue higher education in music. She is a student of The Purcell School. "My mother is my first teacher. In Bengaluru, I was trained in her school. My mother and sister are here in London as well, so it's been really special for me. Next year, I'm going to be studying at the Royal College of Music," says Oberoi.

THE RIGHT fit

A change in footwear can help relieve any pain by 30-40 per cent

DR PALAK DENGLA

SHOES are facilitators to health and fitness. We almost walk five times the circumference of the earth in an average lifetime. Yet we seldom pay attention to our feet and footwear inspite of them bearing the entire body weight and primary mover of the human body. Most of us prefer having a single pair of shoes to serve all purposes of walking, running, gym activities, etc., but believe it or not, it is crucial to not defeat the purpose of different shoes according to the sport biomechanics and agility required.

Proper walking shoes are fundamental in maintaining correct walking technique, as well as preventing injuries. It maintains proper biomechanics of the foot as well as all the other joints connected to foot, while walking. The benefits of a scientifically designed comfortable shoe outnumbers the cost of investment around it. Repetitive issues of acute or chronic episodes of musculoskeletal issues of back pain, knee pain, foot pain, in fact even neck pain and headaches would come down if a wrong shoe was a cause for them.

The right pair of shoes help keep your body safe from injury. Shoes are undoubtedly facilitators to fitness. Without the correct fuel, you are likely to damage the engine of a car, similarly, without the right fit of shoe, you are further prone to suffer with severe injuries. Good quality shoes made for a wearer's feet, provide unique fit, and comfort. Every shoe break after constant usage as it ages.

Whenever a patient goes to a doctor with any kind of head-to-toe issue, the first thing that is checked is their foot arch and the correspondingly worn shoe. 95% of the time they are a misfit, and thus a change of footwear immediately helps relieve the pain drastically by 30-40%.

THE INDISPENSABLE PREREQUISITES FOR THE RIGHT PAIR OF SHOES ARE:

1
STABILITY
Good stability and cushioning throughout the range of movement of walk

2
FLEXIBILITY
Shoes should provide with an easy push-off phase (basically toe-off phase of the walk)

3
COMFORT
The shoe should adequately fit, especially around the heel and the mid-foot with some room for toe-off in the forefoot.

WHAT HARM CAN A WRONG PAIR OF SHOES DO TO THE BODY

Wearing misfit footwear forces the joints of the body to compensate for the faulty foot angulators leading to a long term functional and structural change in the body. After logging between 300 to 400 miles in your walking shoes, it's time for new ones.

Tight-pointed shoes may cause corns, bunions and other toe deformities such as hammer and claw toes, cross-over toes, ingrown toenails. Great chances of falls in elderly due to wrong-fitting shoes.

High heels can cause back pain, headaches, ankle injuries, sprains and plantar fasciitis.

Wearing flat surfaces shoes, with little to no arch support, keeps the feet from functioning optimally and can lead to knee, hip, and back problems. Lack of arch support is the commonest cause of a painful heel condition called as plantar fasciitis advancing into a calcaneal spur at times.

HOW TO SELECT THE RIGHT SHOES

The human feet tend to swell up as the day progresses, consequently the foot is bigger in the evening compared to earlier in the day, thus measuring your foot size later in the day. Try the shoes with the type of socks that you wear on a regular basis. As e-com is growing leaps and bounds, we are highly tempted to buy cheaper available options to look trendier on a regular basis. But when it comes to feet, the quality of shoes matters more over the number of them stacked in the wardrobe. While buying shoes, stand and check your feet size, as your foot will go for maximum stretch in this position. When you move your ankle up/down, in and out, the shoe should not come out. You should be able to move your toe up and down. Adequate padding is required at the same time a snug fit over heel and midfoot helps to walk those miles at ease. A quick way to assess one's arch is to stamp on wet sand or draw your foot on a piece of paper. One can get a fair idea about the arch pattern.

Mild fever helps clear infections faster: Study

IT may be better to let a mild fever run its course instead of automatically reaching for medication, new research suggests. Researchers from the University of Alberta found that untreated moderate fever helped fish clear their bodies of infection rapidly, control inflammation and repair damaged tissue. The research showed that natural fever offers "an integrative response that not only activates defences against infection, but also helps control it", said lead author and immunologist Daniel Barreda.

The study, published in the journal eLife, found that fever helped to clear the fish of infection in about seven days – half the time it took for those animals not allowed to exert fever.

Fever also helped shut down inflammation and repair tissues that had been injured. "We let nature do what nature does, and in this case it was very much a positive thing," Barreda said. Moderate fever is self-resolving, meaning that the body can both induce it and shut it down naturally without medication, he explained.

The health advantages of natural fever to humans still have to be confirmed through research, "but because the mechanisms driving and sustaining fever are shared among animals, it is reasonable to expect similar benefits are going to happen in humans," Barreda added.

That suggests we should resist reaching for over-the-counter fever medications, also known as non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), at the first signs of a mild temperature, he noted. "NSAIDS take away the discomfort felt with fever, but you're also likely giving up some of the benefits of this natural response." –IANS

'KABZAA, A TECHNICIANS FILM'

A SHARADHAA

WITH Kabzaa gearing to hit the screens on March 17, Kannada industry is ready for its next big release. This will be Upendra's first multilingual film. Known for his own directorial ventures that explored the underworld, R Chandru's Kabzaa will see Upendra explore this world as an actor.

Calling Kabzaa a technicians film, Upendra credits the cast and crew of the film for delivering Chandru's vision. "As a filmmaker, he braved through two lockdowns, and still managed to deliver a film of the scale of Kabzaa. It was his dream, and his honest efforts, which has created a wave everywhere. It is now to the audiences across Karnataka and the rest of India to express their opinion about the film," says Upendra.

Kabzaa is one of the biggest films in Upendra's career, and it has the potential to catapult him into the National level. Having accomplished so much in Kannada, one can't help but think about what made Upendra aspire to something like Kabzaa. "My inspiration are the technicians of Kabzaa, including Chandru, I enjoyed working with them, and it is the urge to work up close with such talents and explore their skills that help me move ahead with my projects." It is clear that as always the actor-filmmaker continues to give utmost respect to his technicians. "Being a technician myself, I understand the value and technical requirements of a film. Kabzaa is winning attention across India not because of the presence of Upendra, Sudeep, and Shivarajkumar. Of course, the stars add a lot of value to the film, but it is just an advantage. It is the world Chandru has showcased in the trailer and teaser that is making the audience excited about Kabzaa," he says.

Right from the time of the release of the trailer and teaser, the comparisons to KGF were inescapable. An honest Upendra says, "I am happy people are comparing it to an extraordinary film from our own Kannada industry, which had our director, Prashanth Neel, and our star, Yash. Having said that, Kabzaa does have a few similarities to KGF's making, but on the whole, Kabzaa is a unique film with a different set of highlights. The period setting, recreating the costumes of that era, and maintaining vintage settings have elevated Kabzaa to a different level. I can assure you that be it this film, Om, KGF, or Kantara, each and every one of them are different," says Upendra.

Rowdyism was something we experienced during our college days. My film Om was based on a real incident, and I want to convey a particular message. However, a film like Om will not be relevant today

Upendra, actor

Om, starring Shivarajkmar and directed by Upendra, dealt with a rather realistic portrayal of the underworld, and Upendra says that the film was relevant to its time. "Rowdyism was something we experienced during our college days. The film was based on a real incident, and I want to convey a particular message. However, a film like Om will not be relevant today. On the other hand, we have Kabzaa, which is visually grand, and there is a lot of time that has gone into building that world," he says.

Having faced his share of successes and failures, Upendra is at a place where he is comfortable with his stardom. For a maverick like him, do success and failures still matter? "It always matters. Success gives us encouragement to do more. Failures pull you down and make you rethink your ideas. It is very natural, and inevitable. I consider it a part and parcel of the industry. I believe that it is better not to analyse what is good and bad, and just keep working," he says. But does criticism ever affect him? "Sometimes it is good to be criticised and it helps you get out of your dream world. It opens our eyes. There are silly comments, which should be neglected, but there are a whole lot who give valuable feedback and it helps us to analyse," he says.

With the limelight firmly squared on the Kannada industry, Upendra weighs in on the respect coming the industry's way from various quarters nowadays. "Kannada industry was always great. The industry did not come to the limelight with us. We had legends like Dr Rajkumar and Dr Vishnuvardhan to directors like Puttana Kanagal and Siddlingaiah to name a few. There were so many filmmakers, who have given great hits. When actors like Ravichandran, Shivarajkumar and myself came into the industry, we wanted to make different kinds of films. Now the industry is creating another trend with films like KGF and Kantara. That is the beauty of the Kannada industry," he admits.

Kabzaa will mark Upendra's first multilingual project, and his candidness once again came to the fore as he talks about the term pan-Indian. "Earlier, we used to remake or dub our films. Now the boundary has opened up with OTT and digital platforms. The advantage is that we get a wider and bigger market, and this has, in turn, increased the budgets too. This has enabled us to bring artists from different languages, which mount the film on the biggest scale possible. But more importantly, it is not yet time to sound the death knell for remakes," says Upendra.

With linguistic boundaries becoming blurred, will Upendra find himself starring in other language films now? "It is always nice to explore yourself in other languages. You always feel you are new when you begin a new film. We have seen big stars there, and today we are there sharing screen space with them," he says. Being a big star with a massive fan following has its own perks. A lot of people on social media were rewatching the classics of Upendra, and expressing their admiration. We couldn't help but ask how he is reacting to the young blood rewatching his film. Citing examples of Bangarada Manushya, or Nagarahavu, Upendra says, good films are not bound by time period, and the quality never fades. "You still have the same excitement that you felt when you watched it for the first time."

The actor-filmmaker also has a strong political voice, and it is interesting how he chooses to say his statements through his own directorials even when acting in true-blue commercial cinema with others. "There are times I want to tell something seriously and that haunts me. I want to convey it to the audience. That is when I decide to take up directorial responsibilities. Otherwise, I am very happy with my acting career."

Signing off, Upendra touches upon the unity in Kannada cinema that is evident in the camaraderie he shares with Shivarajkumar and Sudeep, who are playing pivotal roles in Kabzaa. "Stars are always like brothers. The wars are only between fans, and I don't know why. As filmmakers, we are competitive, but not jealous. I hope fans understand this side too and stop engaging in fights," says Upendra, who asserts that Kabzaa will be a spectacular visual experience that will reward Chandru with all the accolades and awards.

'I DID KABZAA PURELY FOR' CHANDRU'

Chandru is a good human. Some projects are done for friendship, and some out of love. I did Kabzaa purely for Chandru. He has put in a lot of effort, and I wish Kabzaa works really well for the sheer hardwork of the filmmaker. I'm proud of his belief, the conviction, and the passion he had for this project," says Sudeep, who plays the pivotal role of Bhargav Bakshi in Kabzaa. "Upendra is a technician himself, and someone who has inspired many technicians. I am happy to be working with him. When I see the rushes of Kabzaa, I can clearly see one man's vision coming through it all, and we are proud of his conviction.

'KABZAA IS AN EARNEST ATTEMPT FROM OUR END, AND IT IS A TOTAL TEAMWORK'

On bringing three superstars —Upendra, Shivarajkumar, and Sudeep — for Kabzaa, Chandru says it was all due to the support given by the actors. "I feel lucky to be working with such legends of the Kannada film industry," says Chandru, who also talks about releasing the film on the birth anniversary of the late actor Puneeth Rajkumar. "I am proud to release the film on his birth anniversary. Puneeth had called me after seeing the first motion poster, and he had told me that he will be part of all the promotions for Kabzaa. He would often surprise us on the sets. Today, I am sure he is somewhere around blessing us," says Chandru, adding, "Kabzaa is an earnest attempt from our end, and it is a total teamwork. The strength of Kabzaa is the producer and my friend, KP Sreekanth, who has been by my side at every stage of my career," he says.

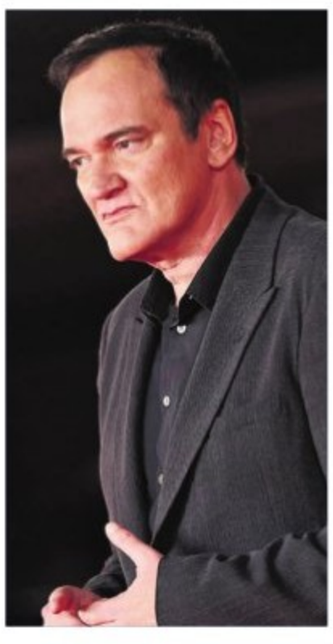
Quentin Tarantino to direct his last film based on Pauline Kael

IN what may be the last film of Quentin Tarantino, the veteran filmmaker is in the process to direct The Movie Critic, which he wrote and will be directing this fall. According to The Hollywood Reporter, the upcoming film will have a period setting of the 1970 Los Angeles and feature a woman as the protagonist. It is also speculated that the film will focus on one of the known and influential film critic, and novelist Pauline Kael.


While a studio is yet to be attached to The Movie Critic, reports suggest that Sony, which also distributed Once Upon a Time in Hollywood, would be associated with the project. The cast and technical crew of the upcoming film are also yet to come in place. It is to be noted that Tarantino had mentioned earlier that he wanted to direct 10 films or retire by 60. The filmmaker has so far helmed nine films, including two Kill Bill films.
